KIDNAP SUSPECT LOSES HIS FIGHT TO AVOID STATE

German's Counsel Announces He Will Take No Further Legal Steps To Prevent Extradition On Murder Charge.

NO DATE IS SET FOR TRIAL OPENING

Unanimous Decision of Five Justices Prevents Reopening of Hearing of Habeas Corpus Plea.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Bruno Hauptmann was brought to New Jersey late tonight to go on trial for the abduction-murder of baby Charles A. Lindbergh.

Three and a half hours after the appellate division of the New York supreme court turned down his plea to avoid extradition, the alien convict was lodged in cell No. 1 of the Hudson county jail.

Guarded by New Jersey state police, he was rushed in an automobile from the Bronx jail, across the Hudson river to this Jersey county town.

Crowd Awaits.
Crowds of curious townsfolk, who gathered about the courthouse and adjoining jail fully an hour before his arrival, had only a quick glimpse at the prisoner as, handcuffed to an officer, he was hurried into the warden's office.

Without ceremony he was led to his cell—a silent, somewhat bewildered figure.

The jail is about 10 miles from the former Hopkinton estate of Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh—the home from which, the state of New Jersey contends, Hauptmann stole the flyer's first-born son the night of March 1, 1932.

Hauptmann has asserted, in his alibi, his innocence of the crime and his absence from New Jersey the day it was perpetrated.

In an evening session, however, the appellate division in New York turned down this plea, decided his alibi was insufficient and allowed immediate extradition by upholding a lower court's action in vacating a writ of habeas corpus.

Five justices of the appellate division of the supreme court upheld Justice Ernest E. L. Hammer, of the Bronx, in refusing to grant a writ of habeas corpus for Hauptmann after extradition papers had been signed.

Off a last-minute plea by Hauptmann's counsel that he had new evidence to show the prisoner was in New York the day of the kidnapping, the justices said:

"This contention is in direct conflict with documentary evidence already in the record."

Swift TB Cure Claimed In Dark Room Treatment

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 19.—(UP)—A "dark room" treatment was credited today with curing a "bad case" of tuberculosis in seven weeks.

The discovery was announced by P. J. Burgess, a general practitioner. His theory, contrary to all accepted methods of fresh air and sunshine treatments, was based on the principle that tuberculosis germs thrive in sunlight, as do any normal organisms.

Leonard Grisham, 23, was Dr. Burgess' experimental patient. He was placed in a garage, painted black inside and out and absolutely darkened. Except for an electric fan air force system, the room was sealed. The patient was permitted to exercise at night, but otherwise was kept entirely at rest. He emerged from the garage 13 pounds heavier and "completely cured," Dr. Burgess said.

20 PLANES POISED IN GREAT BRITAIN FOR $50,000 RACE

Melbourne, Australia, Is Goal for Greatest Speed and Distance Contest in Air History.

MILDENHALL AIRDROME, England, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Twenty fleet airplanes tonight awaited the dawn, and the roaring flight into the southeast over 12,000 miles of jungles, mountain, desert and sea, toward a pot of gold in Melbourne.

Paced by J. A. and Amy Johnson Mollison, the perfectly tuned craft will soar away in the cavalcade at 45-second intervals beginning at 6:30 a. m. Colonel Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, flying the colors of the United States, follow the Mollisons on the drawing.

The other United States entries, Miss Jacqueline Cochran and Wesley Smith, take off ninth, and John H. Wright and John Bolando, tenth.

The tenseness on the eve of the race, broken by a brief afternoon visit of the Prince of Wales and the unexpected arrival of King George and Queen Mary, settled over the field again immediately after the royal party had left.

One of the last to pronounce a plane ready after an all-day vigil of supervising the work was Smith, Miss Cochran's co-pilot. "It was not until long after darkness that he was able to say 'everything is now all right'."

After a hectic 24 hours the mechanics finished with the plane of Cathcart Jones and Ken Waller, married in a morning. Colonel James C. Fitzmaurice, Irish Free State entry, tonight withdrew.

The dapper Irishman found it impossible to get his American-built plane, the

ROBINSON SEARCH VEERS SOUTHWARD AS BILLS SHOW UP

Melvin Purvis Pitches Camp at Cincinnati. Kentucky Proceeds With Prosecution Plans.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Thomas Henry Robinson Jr. tonight pounded the tortuous trails of the pursued as federal agents and police kept sharp-eyed vigil from Tennessee to the Great Lakes.

Two $5 bills included in the ransom paid for the release of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll reported in Tennessee resulted in the opinion that the alleged abductor might be homeward bound to Nashville. The discovery was made by H. W. Summers, president of the Citizens Bank & Trust Co. at Wartburg, a Cumberland mountain town.

Other leads were discovered in Chicago, where James Alexander, a negro, announced he had seen the fugitive. He claimed to have identified as Robin a man who asked his help in repairing a tire.

Melvin H. Purvis, commander of the justice department's famed Dillinger squad, pitched camp in Cincinnati. He has furnished many reports of Robinson's presence.

While the hunt was going ahead, Thomas Henry Robinson Sr. sat on his porch in Nashville, free under $25,000 bond. He too, is charged with complicity in the affair.

Knife Is Explained.
Determination not to go through with the Stoll abduction was advanced by Mrs. Robinson Jr. as the reason he was carrying a knife when arrested.

This was announced by Clem W. Huggins, defense counsel, after he had conferred with the woman at Jefferson county jail where she is held in default of $50,000 bail. She is charged with participation in the kidnapping for which her husband is sought.

Preparations for unpanneling a grand jury in federal district court tomorrow were going forward.

PETITION IS DRAWN BY GARLAND GROUP

Paper Seeking To Bar Lindsay's Name Expected To Be Filed Today.

The anticipated petition enjoining Vess S. Morgan, DeKalb county, from printing the name of Paul L. Lindsay on the DeKalb county ballot for the coming general election, is expected to be filed early this morning in the DeKalb superior court.

The petitioners, according to Judge A. J. Hartley, who with Judge L. P. Skeen, was said to have drawn up the petition Friday, are prominent residents of DeKalb county.

Legion To March Today In Spectacular Parade

World War Vets, With Bands and Drum and Bugle Corps Will Provide Colorful Spectacle—Procession Starts at 5:30 P. M.

The most spectacular and colorful parade that ever strutted through the streets of Atlanta will form at Whitehall street and Trinity avenue at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. Marching to the blare of bands and the rattle and call of drum and bugle corps, they will pass through the heart of the city, down Whitehall and Peachtree, West Peachtree to Third street to Fowler to Grant field.

It is the pre-convention parade of the legionnaires, marching thousands who are on their way to the national Legion convention at Miami. They have stopped over for two days in Atlanta, for a warm-up celebration, a pre-convention jamboree that will serve as an appetizer, a peppy cocktail for the big doings next week in Florida.

This pre-convention program, sponsored by Atlanta Post No. 1 and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has attracted thousands of Legionnaires, their wives and friends to Atlanta. They came in by special train after special train all day yesterday. Automobiles, buses and motorcycles added their hundreds to the crowd and by Friday night the city was full of the colorful scene that designate the men of the Legion, the "buddies" who passed together through the training camp of 1917 and the muddy battlefields of France.

More thousands will arrive today, with the expectation, already assured of fulfillment, that at least 20,000 will be here for the parade this afternoon and the band, drum and bugle corps and drill companies which will be staged, immediately following the parade at Grant field.

Prizes totalling $1,300 in cash have been offered for the best drill units, for the best bands and the best drum corps, while plaques and medals valued at $200 will be awarded to the parade units that make the best appearance as they march through Atlanta.

This afternoon, from 2 to 4, a pre-parade program will be broadcast by Radio Station WGST, with some of the most famous Legion musical units taking part.

The official reviewing stand at the Wincoff hotel will be the point of salute for the paraders. Occupying the stand will be Governor Eugene Talmadge, United States Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., State Legion Commander Sidney Camp, State Commander-elect Delacey Allen, of Atlanta.

MAN IS SHOT DEAD IN FIGHT IN CAFE

W. D. Wood, 26, Killed on Edgewood Ave.; Slayer Claims Self Defense.

W. D. Wood, 26, of an East-Cliff road address, was shot and instantly killed Friday night in a restaurant at 600 Edgewood avenue, Northeast.

R. R. Cathey, 41, garage mechanic, who was tending the restaurant for W. D. Phelps, the proprietor, and who told police he shot Wood in self-defense, was being held at police station on "suspicion."

Joe Newman, of 574 Glenwood avenue, S. E., and Al L. Chabel, a traveling salesman residing at an Atlanta hotel, were seated in the automobile in front of the restaurant at the time of the shooting and substantiated Cathey's story to police.

ATHEISTIC STATE, CHURCH ABOLITION URGED FOR MEXICO

Chamber of Deputies Asks Presidential Action To Ban All Religious Activity in Nation.

MEXICO, D. F., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies voted tonight to request President Alvaro Obregón to expel all Catholic bishops and archbishops from Mexico as a step "toward solving the Catholic question permanently."

Several speakers, in a stormy session in which Catholics were charged with supporting the current agitation against the government's plan for socialistic education, urged the creation of an atheistic state by abolishing all religion.

The proposal for the expulsion of Catholic bishops and archbishops was made by Deputy Luis Enrique Erro, and was approved unanimously by the chamber. The body voted to petition the national revolutionary (government) party to transmit its request to President Obregón.

"We must open the minds of the people by teaching them to see the world in the light of science," Erro said. "We cannot do this while the church makes them believe in God. We must tell them that God is a myth, a word, a grotesque thing."

A comparatively small number of high officials of the Catholic church remain in Mexico, a number having left the country at the height of the anti-church movement several years ago.

Several university students were arrested while allegedly attempting to buy arms and ammunition and a number of other persons were detained for agitating against socialistic education—a project for primary schools which the government plans to effect through a constitutional amendment.

The senate approved the constitutional reform to make socialistic education compulsory. The measure will be sent to the 20 state legislatures. The approval of two-thirds is necessary to make it effective.

JAPAN WILL FIGHT FOR PARITY CLAIM

Tokyo Expected To Conditionally Accept Less Than Actual Equality.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Japan wants Great Britain and the United States to recognize the principle of parity in naval defensive armaments before she shows her hand on the tripartite conversations here, the Associated Press learned authoritatively today.

If the other two nations agree to the principle, however, it was expected the Japanese would be willing to accept much less than actual tonnage equality.

"This would be Japan's way of getting rid of the ranking word 'ratio,' the sore point that led Nippon to its decision to denounce the Washington naval treaties."

The three delegations stand mutually pledged to exert every effort to arrive at some compromise that would avert an armaments race.

Storekeeper Is Killed By Own Burglar Trap

HUNTERVILLE, N. C., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Monroe C. Groves, country storekeeper, had always been afraid burglars would break in and carry away his stock of goods.

Ten years ago he built a contraption so that anyone entering the store at night would automatically pull the trigger of a double-barreled shotgun trained upon the door.

Each night the 73-year-old merchant would detach a little string before entering the store, by detaching the string the death-dealing contraption was made harmless.

Out the other night he forgot. The gun was discharged for the first time in a decade. The load of the gun fell the storekeeper. Yesterday he died in a Charlotte sanatorium.

HOPKINS REVEALS PLANS TO BUILD RELIEF COLONIES

Work Soon Will Be Started on 12 Projects To Provide Homes for 150 to 700 Families.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, said at his press conference today that 12 rural-industrial communities, housing from 150 to 700 families each, would be built immediately with relief funds in different sections of the country.

The administrator disclosed that detailed plans for about 50 such projects have been made at relief headquarters but that money to build all of them was not yet available.

"I'm convinced that every one of the 12 communities which we're going to build at this time will be self-sustaining," Hopkins said.

Pointing to another project in progress in Arkansas he said that 200 houses already had been built there at a cost of between $650 and $900. This project is to include 700 homes ultimately, scattered over 28,000 or 29,000 acres. Hopkins said the amount "actually being laid out" for each unit, including farming tracts of 20 to 30 acres, was between $1,200 and $1,300.

Relief For Families.
All of the rural communities built with relief labor and relief funds are to be occupied by families taken from relief rolls.

Hopkins said five or six industries, two or three in them, nationally known were trying to go into the Red House community. He said some of them would be permitted to establish plants there, and that relief officials in charge of the project would make no effort to regulate the industries established.

"Some day we're got to have housing in America where people can pay 25 per cent of their income for a decent place to live," Hopkins declared. Asked how soon that day was coming, he added:

"As far as I'm concerned it's coming damn soon."

Plans for additional government-financed housing in rural and suburban areas were disclosed by subsequent disclosures.

They said money had been allocated for the $250,000 project, and that 25 projects which would not be announced in detail until the land for them had been purchased. Some of the states in which these homesteads are to be built, and the tentative allotments for them, include: Alabama, $200,000; Florida, $212,500; North Carolina, $100,000; South Carolina, $154,000; and Arkansas, $203,000.

DISABLED AND SICK WILL BE ASSISTED, SAYS PRESIDENT

VETS ARE WELL OFF AS GROUP, HE SAYS

President's Speech at Hospital Dedication Viewed as Move To Forestall Bonus Drive.

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Dedicating near here the first veterans' hospital to be built in this administration, President Roosevelt late today reminded those who served in the World War that thousands of "underprivileged" persons were worse off than themselves and strongly implied the payment of the bonus must await the recovery of this group.

There was no mention of the word "bonus" in the address, but the forty-odd thousands who stood in the natural amphitheater before him heard the president make what was generally regarded as his clearest pronouncement on the issue, even though it was by inference, since he took office a year and a half ago.

He made it clear that disabled and sick veterans would be accorded the "best treatment which medical and surgical science can supply."

But he added there were hundreds of thousands of "largely forgotten" persons in the urban slums and "back eddies remote from the active stream of life" who required government aid, and the elimination of this "definite drag against the return of prosperity" should be the first aim of veterans and the nation as a whole.

A sound financial policy would be followed in providing aid, he said.

Starring Come First.
He added he was sure the ex-service men would agree that the care of the "disabled, the sick, the destitute and the starving is the first thing," not only because he was confident of their patriotism and their understanding of relief needs, but for two other reasons.

"The first is that our federal government and our state governments have given to them the veterans' many privileges not accorded to other citizens, and the other reason is that it has been amply demonstrated that the veterans of the World War, today in the prime of life, are better off on the average, from the point of view of employment and of annual income than the average of any other great group of our country."

Move to Block Bonus.
The president's speech was seen by many as a move to head-off any attempt to place the American Legion on record for the bonus at its Miami convention next week.

Fourteen state Legion departments and that of the District of Columbia have adopted resolutions advocating immediate cash payment. They are said to represent about 38 per cent of the convention's voting strength.

While making his renewed pledge to veterans that they would be amply provided for, Mr. Roosevelt gave assurances to the business world in an

HEALTH MEASURE APPROVED BY KEY

18,000 Food, Drink Dispensers Must Stand Physical Examinations.

Mayor James L. Key Friday approved the ordinance providing that all persons handling food and drink for public consumption shall undergo semi-annual physical examinations to insure that they are free of communicable diseases. About 18,000 persons will be affected, according to estimates.

Key's action followed a public hearing at the city hall. The measure provides, among other things, that all employers must furnish a list of employees affected by the ordinance to the health department before November 1, and that all persons engaged in the business of handling food and drink must submit to the examination and procure certificates of health on or before November 15.

Councilman Joseph E. Berman, of the fourth ward, and Aubrey Milam, of the eighth, were the authors of the original measure, which was amended to meet objections offered by several varying groups of persons affected and represented to council.

It was passed by council at the last session of that body without a dissenting vote.

The mayor promised a group representing workers that he would use his influence to obtain examinations for $1 each. Certificates will cost 50 cents each. He said he believed the medical profession would co-operate in the effort to reduce the examinations within the reach of those making the sales.

The measure was sponsored solely in the interest of better health and as a protection to the public generally.

Text of Address By Chief Executive

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Here is the text of President Roosevelt's address here today dedicating a new veterans' hospital.

In coming to Roanoke to take part in the dedication of the latest addition to our chain of veterans' hospitals, I do not seek to enumerate or catalogue the many steps which have been taken by our federal government to care for its veterans of many wars.

Most of you in this great audience are from this neighborhood and in the years to come the men who will occupy this hospital will be your friends and your neighbors. I commend them to your care.

You see before you a monument which is representative of the national policy that the government is seeking to give aid not only to veterans but also to hundreds of thousands of other citizens—men, and women and children who, handicapped by environment or by circumstance, lack today what reasonable people call the essentials of modern civilization.

UNDERPRIVILEGED RETARD NATION.
For many years we have seen a constantly growing realization of the fact that any large or small group which lacks the elementary necessities of proper food, of decent housing, of adequate medical attention, of essential education, drags down the level of the country as a whole and retards its progress.

In one sense these men and women and children are not forgotten people for the reason that we have known of their existence and appreciated their plight for many years. In another sense, however, they have been forgotten for it is only in recent years that government has undertaken to help them on a national scale.

The further we go in our survey to find out how these people are and where they live, the more appalled I am by the magnitude of our task.

Most of us know in general terms of the slum conditions which exist in many of our cities. Most of us know from hearsay at least, of people who have lived for generations in back alleys remote from the active stream of life. But we have failed to realize the existence of the underprivileged who are present and largely forgotten in practically every one of the more than three thousand counties of the 48 states of this union.

IMPROVEMENT OF LOT OBLIGATION OF ALL.
The improvement of their hard lot is a definite obligation on all of our citizens and I am confident that the veterans of our American wars will be among the first to recognize this fact.

The improvement of their hard lot compels our immediate exertions, not only because of the individual human beings who suffer today, but, even more important to the future of America, because future generations of American citizens will become the descendants of those who are now in need. In this thought also the veterans of our wars will go along.

Let it be well remembered that the hundreds of thousands of men and women and children to whom I have referred, scattered throughout our nation, have no splendid hospitals for their care, have no medical attention, such as we will provide here, have no good food and decent raiment, such as will be provided in this veterans' home; have no opportunities for adequate education, and can but suffer the ills of their lives according to their own individual circumstances.

You have heard it said that we must restore prosperity. You have heard some kind people say that the country is distinctly better off from a material point of view than it was last year. I am inclined to agree with them. Other people, who fail to think things through, forget that one cause of the depression which we are beginning to leave behind, was the very existence of hundreds of thousands of men, women and children who have been and continue to be a definite drag against the return of prosperity.

MUST REMOVE CAUSES OF DEPRESSION.
It must remain our constant objective to eliminate the causes of depression and hold steady on prosperity. It will cost money to do this. In the spending of this money we must have due regard for the good credit of the government of the United States. That means that we can not spend at once or in any given year all that we could usefully spend.

I mentioned once upon a time that we must do first things first, the care of the disabled, the sick, the destitute and the starving is the first thing. To this the veterans of American wars give their approval in agreement with the overwhelming majority of our other citizens.

VETERANS BETTER OFF THAN OTHER CLASSES.
I make this statement in regard to the veterans of America not only because I am confident of their patriotism and their understanding of our national needs, but also for two other reasons. The first is that our federal government and our state governments have given to them many privileges not accorded to other citizens and the other reason is that it has been amply demonstrated that the veterans of the World War, today in the prime of life, are better off from the point of view of employment and of annual income than the average of any other great group of our citizens.

Let these facts, let this great monument—this veterans' hospital and the other institutions of their kind throughout the country—serve as a symbolic reminder of the fact that I am confident that the veterans of our American wars will be among the first to recognize this fact.

WOODRUM PRESIDES.
Representative Clifford A. Woodrum, whose home is in Roanoke, presided at the dedication. Mr. Woodrum introduced the president. At the entrance to the hospital grounds, the 11th field artillery of the Virginia national guard fired a salute of 21 guns.

Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs who made the trip from Washington with the president, in a brief address, said the hospital to be completed here in February, was one of 78 forming a "great network" of veterans' institutions over the land representing an outlay by the government of approximately $127,000,000.

These hospitals were now caring for 40,000 veterans and others were waiting to enter them, he said. He added the institution here, of 472-bed capacity, would be available for veterans in adjoining states as well as Virginia, its area of "useful purpose" extending 150 miles.

Also on the speaker's platform were Postmaster-General E. A. Tamm, two senators, the veteran Carter Glass who accompanied the president from Washington, and Harry F. Byrd. At Lynchburg, Glass' home, several hundred persons gathered to cheer Mr. Roosevelt on the trip south as the senator stood with him on the rear platform.

Mr. Roosevelt also turned out at other points and at Bedford a long single file of gray-haired members of the National Elks' Home stood on a hillside waving American flags as the train went by.

WILLIAMSBURG TO HONOR ROOSEVELT TODAY
WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Virginia's ancient capital will celebrate tomorrow the 150th birthday of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The city will witness the inauguration of John Stewart Bryan as president of the nation's second oldest institution of higher learning, the college of William and Mary.

President Bryan in turn will confer upon the nation's president William and Mary's honorary degree of doctor of laws. The same honor will be conferred upon Governor George C. Peery of Virginia.

A welcome reminiscent of the days when Williamsburg was the capital of Virginia, and a colonial metropolis of America, awaits them all.

President Roosevelt and Mr. Bryan and their party, accompanied by an academic procession will traverse historic Duke of Gloucester street, re-dedicating it as the last major restoration project of colonial Williamsburg which has been reconstructed by John D. Rockefeller Jr., so that it has the appearance of the city that was the hub of the nation in the eighteenth century.

The inauguration ceremonies for Mr. Bryan and those honoring President Roosevelt and Governor Peery will take place on the steps of the west portico of the old Wren building. This old building, noted for the antiquity of the college founded under a royal charter in 1693, is the oldest academic building in the country. It is the center of a college which is second in age only to Harvard, President Roosevelt's alma mater.

President Roosevelt will bring the simple ceremony to its climax with the first presidential speech in Williamsburg since President Coolidge opened the sesqui-centennial anniversary celebration of the signing of the Virginia resolutions.

Upon his inauguration Mr. Bryan will be the nineteenth president of William and Mary. He was elevated to the position from the office of vice rector of the college board of visitors succeeding the late J. A. C. Chandler, whose administration since 1919 was ended by death during the summer.

Mr. Bryan is a widely traveled scholar, a journalist and newspaper publisher, a philanthropist and a civic leader. He is a native Virginian. He was born in 1871 at Brook Hill in Henric county, and lived most of his life in the city of Richmond, where he is publisher of the Richmond News-Leader.

YORKTOWN CELEBRATES 153D BATTLE ANNIVERSARY
YORKTOWN, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Celebrating the 153d anniversary of the victory that assured independence of the American colonies, historical organizations, civic authorities and those responsible for the colonial national monument, joined today in impressive memorial exercises. Religious exercises in colonial Grace church had first place on the program, followed by the principal program at the historic custom house, where Mrs. Russell William Regna, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, held the place of principal speaker and brought a message recalling the historic occasion being celebrated and drawing from the point of view of employment and of annual

Mayor Key Greets Chevrolet Caravan

Three hundred and fifty Chicagoans, members of the American Legion, were met at Marietta, Ga., late yesterday afternoon by James L. Key, mayor of Atlanta. These legionnaires are on their way to Miami, Fla., to attend the American Legion national convention, which opens Monday. They are driving through from Chicago in a caravan of 75 Chevrolet town sedans, the official courtesy car of the convention. These cars are to be a feature of the mammoth parade in Atlanta this afternoon. The above shows from left to right, John E. Smith, C. C. back to Washington, arriving Monday morning.

Roanoke, dressed all up with bunting and flags, turned out en masse to welcome the president here. It was the first official visit of a chief executive to this city and thousands lined the streets to cheer the president as he drove the 10 miles from the station and through near-by Salem to the hospital site.

The president expressed his appreciation for the welcome in extemporaneous remarks before his prepared address.

U. S. Must Protect Credit--Roosevelt

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Mindful of recent demands by business for an indication of the future trend of the government's financial policy, President Roosevelt said today that federal spending must be done with "due regard for the good credit of the government of the United States."

He made no mention of recent requests by business that he disclose the future monetary plans of the administration, but he devoted one paragraph of his speech in dedicating a veterans' hospital here to a discussion of federal spending.

"It must remain our constant objective to eliminate the causes of depression and the drags on prosperity," he said.

"It will cost money to do this. In the spending of this money we must have due regard for the good credit of the government of the United States."

"That means that we can not spend at once or in any given year all that we could usefully spend."

income than the average of any other great group of citizens.

Commenting on a portion of the chief executive's address, made in dedicating a new veterans' hospital at Roanoke, Va., the national commander said:

"I cannot agree with the observation made by the president 'that it has been amply demonstrated' that the veterans of the World War are better off from the point of view of employment and of annual income than the average of any other great group of our citizens."

"The experience of those of us who have been devoting the past 15 years to the problems of the World War veterans has supplied us with ample proof to show that a vast majority are in a class of handicap because of their service to the government in war."

JAPAN WILL FIGHT FOR PARITY CLAIM

Americans and the Japanese, Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto and Ambassador Isunoo Matsudaira, today.

The Japanese also have conferred with the British, and it was understood that their talk, too, involved like promises.

Japan's entire case for treaty revision, however, is bound up with its determination not to reveal its entire technical program before the other two powers recognize "in principle" her right to equality in defensive weapons.

That, apparently, is the stumbling block in the path to an agreement, since neither the United States nor Britain has given any hint that it would offer any such promise before discussing the Japanese technical plan.

ROBINSON SEES DIFFICULTY IN FRAMING NEW PACT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Senator Joseph T. Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, returning to the capital today after two months in Europe, said many obstacles stood in the way of a satisfactory naval arms agreement in 1934.

Robinson, who was a delegate to the London arms conference, said with reference to the projected 1935 conference, that he regretted to say "that the difficulties in the way of such an agreement appear to me to be very numerous and very great."

"Europe is seething with discontent. There are many sore spots and much fear. I do not wish to augment the difficulties or to exaggerate them, but it seems to me that frankness and a fair understanding of the situation is essential in the beginning to the accomplishment of substantial results."

GENERAL VON KLUCK PASSES IN GERMANY

Noted Field Marshal in World War Was 88 Years Old.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—(AP)—General Alexander von Kluck, the German who nearly captured Paris, died at his home today, aged 88 years.

The aged field marshal long had been saddened by the death of his only grandchild, Alexandra, who suffered fatal injuries in a motor accident near Bordeaux last March.

Von Kluck's name stood out among those of German military leaders as the man whose forces nearly took Paris in 1914.

The 85th birthday of the old fighter on May 20, 1931, was the signal for a great demonstration by the former comrades of Field Marshal von Kluck.

Celebrating at the suburban home in Gruenewald with members of his family, he received loads of flowers, letters and telegrams.

MIKE BRADY.

Around Somerville, Tenn., and in the eastern part of Shelby county, of which Memphis is the county seat, folks set their watches by Mike Brady's train during the 40 years he was the kindly engineer on the Southern railway's old "Somerville."

When one product outsells all others in its field by a tremendous margin, year after year, there is only one conclusion to draw. That product must be best.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes have become the world's largest-selling ready-to-eat cereal for that one reason. Finer in flavor. Crisper and more appetizing. Uniformly good wherever you buy them.

You can get some idea of the popularity of Kellogg's Corn Flakes from such figures as these: Over 12,000,000 people eat them every day. They create a market for $50,000,000 worth of farm products yearly—including half a billion quarts of milk and cream, besides vast acreages of corn.

Like other Kellogg Cereals you may have enjoyed, Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a wholesome food, nourishing and easy to digest. A big value too. Economical. Ready to serve.

Remember, when you buy Corn Flakes, ask for Kellogg's, the original Corn Flakes, never equalled in quality.

F. D. R. IS OPPOSED TO CENTRAL BANK

Two New Steps in Monetary Policy of Nation Are Favored.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The administration is preparing to combat in the next congress an expected effort to establish a central bank or central monetary authority. Treasury officials were revealed today to have considered the idea themselves for several months. They marshaled a group of economists to investigate its possibilities. Now, however, it has been decided that whatever beneficial results such an institution would produce could be obtained by a little more revamping of the federal reserve system.

The primary purpose of a central bank is to provide in a branch of the government a unified control over credit and the issuance of currency. Recent banking legislation, it was held, had very largely concentrated this power in the treasury and the federal reserve board.

Two new steps favored.

Two new steps are regarded with favor. One would give President Roosevelt authority to name the governors of the various reserve banks. Another would establish a committee

Expert Will Select Art for Uncle Sam

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The government wants to avoid being stuck when it buys art. The treasury is hiring experts to pass on paintings and sculpture intended for United States buildings.

Secretary Morgenthau announced today that Edward Bruce, who directed the public works of art project last winter, had been retained as consulting expert.

He will function with a new paintings and sculpture section of the procurement division.

answerable to the reserve board to take charge of the purchase and sale of government bonds by the banks of the system.

The reserve board has no supervisory power over such transactions, which are aimed at controlling the general volume of credit. The existing situation, officials believe, holds possibilities of individual reserve bank policies running counter to the purposes of the administration.

Commercial banks hold well over 50 per cent of all outstanding government bonds. The theory is that if the reserve banks buy quantities of these bonds in times of credit stringency, the commercial banks will find their interest-bearing securities replaced by cash which must be loaned if it is to yield a profit.

Credit Control.

In spite of the indifferent success which has attended the reserve system's previous efforts in this direction, it is still considered a potent method of controlling credit, or especially in times of over-expansion and too plentiful credit.

Authority to issue currency is scattered, but, in the main, rests with the reserve banks and the treasury. The only exception is the power of the national banks to issue national bank notes. Administration officials consider this a comparatively negligible factor in general control of the currency.

An alternative to presidential appointment of reserve bank governors, under consideration, would give the reserve board, appointed by the president, power to confirm or reject the governors elected in the usual way. They are chosen by the boards of directors of the various reserve banks, who in turn are elected by the stockholders, which are the member banks.

Under the present system a reserve bank could name a governor, administration officials say, who by opposition and refusal to co-operate could nullify governmental efforts at unified banking and currency policy.

DECATUR HIGH SCHOOL TO OFFER STUNT NIGHT

Decatur High school will present its annual stunt night at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the school auditorium. The presentation, which is one of the school's most popular and important events, is sponsored by the music committee of the P. T. A. Proceeds will go to the school orchestra and glee club.

Each class will put on an act, and a 30-piece girls' orchestra under the direction of Mrs. C. Reynolds Clark will entertain between acts.

LUTHERANS PLAN COMMUNISM FIGHT

'Destructive Social Forces' To Be Fought, Savannah Convention Is Told.

By ROBERT BUNNELLE, Associated Press Staff Writer.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The United Lutheran church here today was disclosed as definitely enlisted in a battle against communism and "destructive social forces" in a report by its board of American missions.

Presenting the report before the ninth biennial convention of the church, Dr. H. W. A. Hanson, head of Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa., and president of the board, said that the "most serious situation in the world today is not that a great deal has been done to its economic structure but that something has been done to the souls of men."

Needs Pointed Out.

Declaring that there can never be a "restored world" until there are restored souls, Dr. Hanson said two things must be borne in mind by the church: "That radicalism, anarchy and Godlessness in a thousand forms are attempting to confound and confuse the picture and that the seeds of evil have grown up in the world as a sense of futility and a philosophy of despair."

The need of today, he added, "is for an aroused church that knows what it is in the world to do, and gives full measure of strength toward doing it."

Urging the church to arouse itself against the "forces of evil," Dr. Hanson said he regarded the whole world as in a period of transition, with the "entire history" of the next 50 years locked up in the next two years and the ability of the church to restore ideas and spirituality during this period.

He explained that the board of American missions, realizing that there are millions of people beyond the financial ability of the church who are being influenced by "communism, radicalism, vulgarizing agencies and the backwash of the moral sewers," must adopt a new policy to extend its sphere toward social and spiritual uplift.

Without funds to go beyond certain limits, an attempt is being made to reach areas which never would be able to support a church by volunteer workers from established churches. The report was adopted with a round of applause.

An additional appeal along the same line for a rallying of disbelievers in finances was voiced by Dr. Zeman Corbe, executive secretary of the board. The board's report disclosed that the church has 756 American missions including 12 newly established in Canada.

As to division of funds for mission work, the board suggested 75 per cent for "planting faith," 15 per cent for "preserving the faith" and 10 per cent for "propagating the faith."

Devotional Service.

Earlier today the convention held a special devotional service for the Lutheran churches of the world and said a special prayer for Lutherans in Germany who were described by Dr. A. B. Wentz, of Gettysburg, Pa., leader of the services, as in "great distress" and in "serious conflict" reference to their relations with other religious bodies and with the supreme government of the realm.

In a report by the board of foreign missions today, Dr. S. W. Herman, of Harrisburg, Pa., president, declared missionary work the essence of Christianity and urged stronger support of missions. He pointed out that the budget of the board had been improved by a substantial lowering of its deficit since last year.

HOUSTON SCHOOL HEAD IS TAKEN BY DEATH

MAISON, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Houston F. Houser, 53, superintendent of the Houston county schools, died in a local hospital early this morning after a 10-day illness of stomach trouble.

Mr. Houser had been superintendent of the Houston county schools for the last 10 years, and was a leading citizen of Perry, Ga. He was president of the Perry Civitan Club and had served as superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school there for many years.

Funeral services will be held at the Perry Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

WARLAW TO DISCUSS CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

QUITMAN, Ga., Oct. 19.—The weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club here next Tuesday will be featured by a talk on the Scottish Rite hospital in Atlanta for crippled children, William C. Warlaw, former president of the Atlanta Rotary Club and active in behalf of the hospital, which is a Shrine-Masonic charity, is taking the discussion to Rotary clubs throughout the state and will go from here to Valdosta and Waycross.

There is great interest in the hospital here due to the fact that in the past a number of crippled children from Brooks have been treated there.

TRIAL OF ROSCOE LUKE IS SET FOR TUESDAY

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 19.—Solicitor-General George R. Lilly, of the southern circuit, states that it is his intention to call the case against Roscoe Luke, charged with murder, next Tuesday morning.

There have been rumors of plans to seek a change of venue, but no steps to that end will likely be taken until the case is formally called.

Judge Luke, of the Thomasville city court, has been indicted by the Thomas county grand jury on a charge of slaying his business associate, Oscar Groover, on May 20.

MAYOR JAMES A. FORT RENAMED AT AMERICUS

AMERICUS, Ga., Oct. 19.—Mayor James A. Fort, attorney and World War veteran, was nominated here Wednesday for a third term as mayor of Americus. He received 713 votes and 467.

Three aldermen, Lewis Merritt, Cooper Bradley and Will Horne, whose terms expire in December, were renominated without opposition in Wednesday's election.

Cruise Island Lecture.

DAHLONEGA, Ga., Oct. 19.—R. A. Brett, widely traveled mining engineer now operating a gold mine near Dahlonega, today gave at the chapel exercises of the North Georgia College the first of a series of travelogues, telling events gathered from his experiences in all parts of the world. He told of Robinson Crusoe island and some of his own experiences while on the island investigating its mineral possibilities.

Officer Solves Crime.

ALBANY, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Motorcycle Officer Phelps Mallard has gone Sherlock Holmes one better—he solves crimes before they are discovered.

The other night he arrested a negro on suspicion and found an overcoat and a dress coat in his possession. The next day an Albany man called up and reported the theft of the articles from his market.

"Come and get 'em," said police, and the bewildered citizen did, while Officer Mallard beamed with pride.

Fall Cakes Move.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 19.—Cucumber shipments continue to move from Coolidge, but the cool weather of the past few days is reported to have retarded growth and shipping to some extent. Prices on the whole have been very good this season, and those who planted are reporting good returns from their crop.

Statenville Road.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Oct. 19.—After completing its work on highway No. 21, the engineering force located here for some time has been moved to Statenville, in Echols county.

The crew is in charge of W. E. Everette, engineer, and it has prepared a survey of No. 31 from Valdosta to the Berrien county line and this has been sent to the Atlanta office. The crew is now at work on a survey of route No. 11, from Statenville to the Florida line, and some months will be required to complete this task.

Many Visit Clinic.

QUITMAN, Ga., Oct. 19.—The Chest clinic conducted here by the board of health under state health auspices had an unusually large number of patients, a total of 67, with 44 cures. These clinics, which are held periodically, have brought many incipient cases of tuberculosis to light and resulted in successful treatment of many.

Quitman Candidates Announce.

QUITMAN, Ga., Oct. 19.—Three candidates have announced for the city commission in Quitman, W. W. Patrick, whose term expires January 1. They are Donald Davis, D. B. McDonald and C. E. Glausier. Patrick will not announce for re-election, it is stated. The present incumbent is composed of Patrick, J. M. Hubert and I. A. Jones.

Gin Tickets Received.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 19.—The Bankhead tax exemption certificates have been checked and cleared to the ginners of Emanuel county by J. W. Stephenson, county farm agent. He is now delivering the unused certificates to the farmers, in order that they may go ahead and gin and market the remainder of their crop.

Emanuel county's quota under the Bankhead act is slightly less than 14,000 bales of cotton. The county ginned 18,467 bales in 1933. On October 1, the date of the last gin census report, the county had ginned 10,262 bales, as compared with 18,487 bales on October 1, 1933. The quota is not expected to be exceeded.

BOND DENIED GEORGIAN IN SLAYING AT TAMPA

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Sparkman late today denied bond to Charles E. Lemon, of Savannah, charged jointly with Frank Frank, of Tampa, with the slaying of Jerry Bacalis, Tampa bottling company president. Frank was permitted to remain at liberty under bond of $7,500.

Judge Sparkman's decision brought to a close a five-day hearing to determine if Lemon's bond should be granted and Frank's sustained.

Bacalis was slain at his home on the morning of September 3. George Bacalis, his nephew, and Lemon, it was testified, were the only other occupants of the house at the time of the slaying. Lemon was a house guest.

KIWANIANS URGED TO STUDY ISSUES

Delegates at Columbus Advised To Deal With Government Questions.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Georgia Kiwanians were advised today by Dr. William J. Carrington, of Atlantic City, N. J., international president, to make their meetings fact-finding forums as a means of bringing about greater efficiency in local governments.

Speaking before the annual state convention of Georgia Kiwanis Clubs, which opened here yesterday, Dr. Carrington said that "ignorance, prejudice, and selfishness which caused children to be underprivileged, adding that Kiwanis proposes to strike at those conditions."

Slum Clearance.

"If every mispent tax dollar were applied to slum clearance, public health, public schools, playgrounds and prevention, underprivileged would be stopped at the source," he declared.

Asking the question "what can a service club do to reduce waste and inefficiency in local government," Dr. Carrington said some about "turn out the rascals." He added that "public officials are not rascals. Bouding companies rate them as honest as any other group."

"Openly discuss daylight accounting methods, overlapping governments and training of public officials," he told the delegates. "These are not political questions in any partisan sense. With that sort of program, the problem of Kiwanis is solved."

Through publicity, not for Kiwanis, but for the things for which Kiwanis stands, through that sort of publicity will we mould public opinion.

The maintenance of adequate educational facilities, especially those making for character development, was described by the international president as another special Kiwanis objective for this year. Kiwanians were told to "see that a fair share of the tax dollar goes to public schools, for today is the only chance this crop of citizens will ever have."

During the depression, he reported, Kiwanis membership dropped from 103,000 in 1929 to 76,000 in 1932, but the present membership of 82,150 is increasing at the rate of 1,000 a month.

The 1,873 clubs in the United States and Canada served during the depression, he claimed, building friendships, broadening the intellectual horizons of men, creating opportunities for self expression and training civic leadership. In the past four years, he said, more than 20,000 humanitarian achievements have been completed by Kiwanis Clubs.

Dinner Last Night.

Trustees and club officers dined were held last night, followed by an informal dance at the Country Club.

Other addresses on the morning program included welcomes to Columbus by Mayor H. C. Smith and Thurston C. Crawford, president of the local club, and a response by Dave M. Parker, of Atlanta, immediate past district governor. Mark Smith, of Thomaston, district governor, delivered his annual message and other officers made reports.

The afternoon delegates witnessed a military demonstration at Fort Benning and ended the day with a dinner and ball at the post.

PAULDING COUNTY FAIR BREAKS ALL RECORDS

DALLAS, Ga., Oct. 19.—Paulding county fair opened here Thursday and breaks all records both in attendance and in the quality of displays.

Practically every community in the county is sponsoring a booth in addition to the many individual articles on display.

Vernon Women's Four-H Club won first place in community booths and Mrs. W. P. Denton, of Antioch, placed first in individual booths.

Special attractions are the cotton fashion show, the flower show and cake contest.

The fair will close Saturday night and will mark the closing of another successful year of home demonstration and farm work in Paulding county.

MARIETTA CADET GETS HONOR AT UNIVERSITY

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Jasper N. Dorsey III, of Marietta, will be cadet colonel of the University of Georgia R. O. T. C. unit for 1934-35. Colonel H. E. Mann, commandant, announced today.

Henry G. Bell, of Halcynodale, will be cadet lieutenant colonel, Benjamin M. Turner, of Cordale, colonel of cavalry, and Hal B. Hatcher, of Macon, lieutenant colonel of infantry.

APPLING LEGISLATOR FOUND DEAD IN BED

BAXLEY, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Dr. P. H. Comas, 74, Appling county representative in the state legislature and a pioneer Baxley citizen, was found dead in his bed here today.

Dr. Comas was widely known in this section as a physician and was prominent in religious, civic and club affairs here. He was a former state senator and a large land owner. His term as representative would have expired in January.

BANK VAULT IS IMMUNE TO ATTACK OF BURGLAR

MITCHELL, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—An apparent attempt by burglars to rifle the bank of Kelley & Son failed here last night but $100 worth of merchandise was taken from a near-by drug store.

O. L. Kelley, cashier of the bank, was unable to open the vault today and neither could a safe expert who was called in to open it immediately.

State Deaths And Funerals

DAVID FORREST KNAPP.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 19.—David Forrest Knapp, of Boston, died Thursday at his home of a heart attack while sitting in a chair on the front porch of his home. He had been in ill health for about a year but not confined to his bed.

He is survived by his wife, three sons and three daughters. They are D. P. Knapp, C. W. Knapp and J. A. Knapp, all of Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Frank Duval, of Tallahassee; Mrs. W. L. Miller, of Thomasville; and Mrs. C. C. Thomas, of Metcalfe; one sister, Mrs. M. G. Gill, of Metcalfe; and one brother, W. G. Knapp, of Metcalfe.

MRS. CLYDE WILLIAMS.

SOCIAL CIRCLE, Ga., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Clyde Williams died Friday morning after an illness of several months. She is survived by her husband, eight children, a brother and four sisters.

Funeral services will be held Saturday from the Social Circle Methodist church at 2:30, eastern standard time. Elder E. L. Cook and Rev. J. J. Copelan officiating.

Judge Rules Husband Must Know of Debts

MACON, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Judge Louis E. Brown, of Bibb superior court, has ruled a husband can't be held liable for a debt contracted by his wife without the husband's knowledge.

A Macon man who bought the accounts of a ready-to-wear store sued a man for a bill owed the store by his wife. The husband claimed he knew nothing of the purchase by his wife when suit was filed.

The man who owned the accounts obtained a judgment in municipal court, but the husband's appeal was sustained by Judge Brown.

INFERTILITY CURE IS CLAIMED FOUND IN HORMONE DROPS

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The cure of 50 per cent of childlessness among 100 married couples by the easy method of taking daily a few drops of hormone extracts was reported to the American College of Surgeons today.

The infertility was not confined to one sex; in this group of 200 persons, it was as likely to be the man as the woman, and responsibility was quite evenly divided. The results were reported by Dr. Allan Winter Rowe, director of research of the Evans Memorial hospital, Boston.

The extracts which ended the childlessness were those of the pituitary gland, the thyroid and ovary. The pituitary lies near the base of the brain and governs the co-operation of the entire series of ductless glands which include not only those of sex but the adrenals, thyroids and parathyroids, or glands which have no apparent direct relation to either sex or fertility.

In some instances the infertility appeared to be due to conditions of lowered vitality affecting the body generally. This was especially true of those who were infertile on account of thyroid gland deficiency.

The lack of sufficient thyroid activity reduced the entire bodily energy and had no direct effect on sex. Yet when thyroid extract brought up the general health level the bar to children disappeared.

SCHOOL CONFERENCE ON TODAY IN MACON

MACON, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The second annual session of the High School-College Conference will be held here tomorrow.

Speakers on the program include E. V. Welch, superintendent of the Adel schools; Dr. Paul Morrow, of the University of Georgia, and L. M. Lester, of the state department of education.

Delegates to the conference will see Mercer University play its homecoming game against Furman University.

CHURCH BODY SCORES ROOSEVELT ON LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A spokesman for the interdenominational conference of church leaders accused the Roosevelt administration today of "utter failure to keep its pledges that the saloon would not be allowed to return and that dry states would be protected."

Dr. Arthur J. Barton, of Wilmington, N. C., chairman of the social service commission of the Southern Baptist convention, made the accusation at the conclusion of a session of the conference here which he said was attended by representatives of 11 evangelical religious denominations and by leaders of national temperance organizations.

He made public a resolution of the conference urging citizens of Kansas, West Virginia, California, Nebraska, Florida, South Dakota, and Wyoming to maintain state dry laws.

BISHOP MOUNZON RAPS "SINS" OF ADMINISTRATION

LYNCHBURG, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—"Sins" which he said "never be forgotten or forgiven" he laid today at the White House doorstep in a fiery address by Bishop Edwin D. Mounzon, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

Vigorously assailing the administration's liquor policy, the churchman told the 1524 Virginia Methodist conference that the government had broken its promise to ban the corner saloon.

"The Old Testament tells us that certain kings of Israel made Israel to sin," he said. "Well, it can be said of the present administration in Washington that it has made church people to sin, and it will never be forgotten or forgiven."

Urging that Protestants join with Catholics and Jews "in signing a pledge to see that the film business is cleaned up," the bishop said that the motion picture business even more so than the liquor business is a tear on the nation's moral fabric.

Long Aid Is Indicted In Tax Evasion Probe

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Abe L. Shushan, a close political associate of Senator Huey P. Long, was indicted today by the United States grand jury on a charge of evading income tax.

Rene Visco, federal district attorney, stated that Shushan was at present president of the Orleans levee board, a state body, although some time ago it was reported that he had resigned his position due to ill health. The great $6,000,000 Shushan airport in New Orleans is named after Shushan.

The government's indictment charged that Shushan evaded income tax payments aggregating $55,919.34 for the four years 1929, 1930, 1931 and 1932. The indictment charged that the amount of money on which this sum was due was $390,628.77.

The indictment was one of a series of similar indictments already handed down to the district federal court here in the income tax investigation of the returns made by Long and his high political associates.

Realty Holding Group Seeks Reorganization

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Carl G. Fisher Company, holding concern for corporations in the real estate and hotel business here and at Montauk Point, N. Y., today filed in federal court here a petition for its reorganization.

The petition alleges that company owns assets in excess of $11,130,000, with direct liabilities of $2,960,000, and contingent liabilities under contracts of guaranty of $3,012,532. The company has capital stock of $4,000,000, and surplus of $3,012,532.

South Dakota Baby Wins "Most Beautiful" Title

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Miss Marilyn Yvonne Miller, 15-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller, of Pierre, S. D., has been named as "America's Most Beautiful Baby" in a contest at the World's Fair sponsored by Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Marilyn triumphed over 114,364 other entries, whose pictures were sent in to the judges from every state in the Union, and shortly will be awarded the first prize of $10,000—$5,000 in cash and a $5,000 R. E. Wood College educational policy.

30-Hour Work Week Is Opposed by Swope

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Company, said tonight that a compulsory 30-hour work week with a corresponding increase in wages would defeat its own purpose, maintaining the high standards of American living.

New manufacturing methods and new inventions are the only practical means of decreasing hours and increasing wage rates, Swope told the National Electrical Manufacturers' Association convention.

The increased volume of employment attending a rigid reduction in hours would be only temporary, the industrialist said, larger pay rolls would kite selling prices, he theorized, which would reduce consumption and completing the cycle, throw workmen back into the streets.

Profits in industry are not high enough to absorb the added expenses of wage increases, Swope said.

U. S. Team Defeats British Bridge Four

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(Saturday)—(AP)—The American bridge team, led by Ely Culbertson, today retained the Schwab trophy by defeating its English challengers in 300 hands.

The score: United States, 91,305; England, 88,050.

Fighting hard to stave off defeat, the English team reduced the American lead at one stage to 400 points. But two swings, one for 550 points and one for 1,040, in the last three hands gave the Americans victory.

The finish thrilled spectators. Ely Culbertson, captain of the American team, pronounced it one of the most desperately fought bridge matches in recent international competition. He expressed admiration for the English team.

AAA Dairy Control Dealt Blow by Court

DES MOINES, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey ruled today that the secretary of agriculture could not license or regulate the business of a dairy where it was conducted directly within a state.

SEVEN MORE INDICTED FOR LOTTERY OFFENSES

Seven persons were indicted by the Fulton grand jury for lottery offenses Friday as the battle to stamp out the "number" game in Atlanta continued.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin said another indictment is being prepared against an Atlanta man who has been impersonating the operator of a lottery company and collecting the money which his "winners" obtain selling chances at the "bug" under the name of the established company. When the player guesses the correct figure, however, the man does not pay off. Boykin said the winners and the writers had given information for the indictment.

The solicitor also said "Pee Wee" Burns, already indicted for lottery offenses and also for assault on contracts of guaranty of $3,012,532, did not pay off, will be brought to trial at an early date.

18 Pct. Acreage Slash Urged for Potatoes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—An 18 per cent cut in the 1935 early Irish potato acreage in southeastern states was declared necessary today if prices are to equal or better cost of production.

This was the contention of the interstate early potato committee, which held a private meeting here. It was announced by A. E. Mercker, potato specialist of the department of agriculture.

The committee recommended that North Carolina early growers reduce their 1935 acreage 20 per cent below the 1934 planting; Georgia growers 30 per cent; South Carolina growers 13 per cent; Maryland growers 18 per cent; Norfolk, Va., section growers 13 per cent; eastern shore of Virginia growers 22 per cent, and other Virginia growers 12 per cent. It recommended Florida's acreage remain the same.

Tennessee Board Ends TVA Hearing

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The state railroad and public utility commission this afternoon took under advisement a case involving the proposed purchase of utility properties by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The extended hearing was held on the application of the Tennessee Valley Service Company for approval of sale of its holdings at and near Knoxville to the TVA for $6,191,000. The transaction was protested by two T. V. S. preferred stockholders and a group of 13 Tennessee ice and coal companies.

Instituted last month, the case was given the commission after day-long arguments in which opposing attorneys attacked and defended the sale.

Aimee Faces Tax Lien For $635 Due Since '28

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson was accused of failing to pay her 1928 federal income tax in a suit for $635.62 filed today by John P. Carter, collector of internal revenue.

NEW JERSEY JAIL HOLDS HAUPTMANN

opinion an hour after they had listened in a crowded courtroom to the pleadings of Defense Attorney James M. Fawcett.

"This evidence I am offering is very important," said Fawcett, seeking to introduce an affidavit of Joseph M. Furcht that Hauptmann was working for him on March 1, 1932, up to a few hours before the abduction.

A temporary stay of extradition had been granted Hauptmann pending the appeal. Attorney General W. L. Lentz, obtaining two certified copies of the opinion, rushed to the Bronx.

Meanwhile Fawcett, who appeared dazed as the opinion was read by Presiding Justice Edward R. Finch, said he would not appeal again.

"That would be useless in view of the fact that we have been unable to introduce new evidence," he commented.

His associate, Bernhard Meisels, appeared more optimistic, telling newspapermen:

"We will face the issue in New Jersey and I believe acquit Hauptmann."

The court's three-page opinion was signed by all five justices.

The appellate hearing followed the action of Supreme Court Justice Ernest Hammer in vacating a writ of habeas corpus and allowing the extradition of Hauptmann.

Important.

"This evidence I am offering is very important," Fawcett said. "It makes the day complete for Mr. Hauptmann. I say there was ample proof to sustain the writ."

"We have proved that his relation was in this state on the first of March. His best recollection was that he either worked all day on the Majestic hotel or spent the day in an employment agency."

"He was in the Bronx on Monday, all night, preceding March 1."

Chest Funds Open Door of Hope For Family in Squalid Despair

By RALPH MCGILL.

Truth is stranger than fiction.

And the terror of truth is more terrifying than all that contained in a library of horror stories.

There was Mandy. Poor, patient Mandy. With terror and courage in her chest. Mandy had worked there for years and years. Years of washing dishes. Years of looking into the oven.

With the depression there was talk of letting Mandy go. It had gone so bad. But somehow they had to keep Mandy. They just had to.

They are a happy race, the negro race. Their inclination is toward happiness. But there came the terror. Terror in the hearts of all those who are faithful and work and who, like Mandy, are widowed and with children to feed. Mandy knew what hunger was. She had friends who were hungry.

And then she began to cough. It was a cold at first. It kept on. The mistress of the house was worried. Mandy was sick.

And then one day the minister called to this home. And he heard the story of the worried mistress and of Mandy, trying to hide her cough and the worry. The thought of losing one's job is a terrifying thought.

The minister recalled that the year before the mistress of the house had assisted in a Community Chest drive in Decatur. And that there was a clinic on Forrest avenue.

Mandy went there. They examined Mandy—Mandy with her big eyes big with fright and her heart hurting with fear of what they might find. They X-rayed Mandy. The three children

Pastors To Repudiate Nazi Bishop Mueller

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A "declaration of independence" flatteringly repudiating Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller and all his works will be signed tomorrow by 150 opposition churchmen from all parts of the reich gathered here, it was learned tonight.

Action of the laymen and clergymen, assembled for the second national convention of the so-called confessional synod founded last May, will bring out into the open the split between the German national Protestant church, headed by Mueller, and its opposition.

The delegates were still deliberating as to the wording of their resolution assailing Mueller, but it was learned they would affirm solemnly that they alone constitute the true German evangelical church.

MACHADO SAID SAVED FROM ASSASSINATION

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Authorities said today they believed they had blocked an attempt to assassinate former President Gerardo Machado, of Cuba, here in exile, through the harrowing yesterday of eight supposed university of Havana students who attempted to land in the Dominican Republic at Puerto Plata.

BRISBANE, Australia, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith arrived today from Sydney, Australia, completing a 540-mile hop in three hours, and said he may start his trans-Pacific flight tomorrow.

Weather conditions, however, may delay until Sunday or Monday his takeoff for Suva, Fiji Islands, en route to Honolulu and San Francisco.

Farley Sees G. O. P. Headed For Still Greater Downfall

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Rival claims—that the New Deal was sinking, and that the republicans had become demoralized—were advanced from the opposing political camps today in an exchange quickened by the approach of the November balloting.

Taking the latest Literary Digest poll as his guiding post, Chairman Fletcher of the republican national committee, contended it showed public sentiment was running against the New Deal.

In quick reply Chairman Farley, of the democratic national committee, said the November elections would give the administration a victory that would topple the G. O. P. to its lowest level since the War Between the States.

Countering Fletcher's statement that the New Deal was growing into disfavor and leading the nation "down further into the valley of depression," Farley said "utter demoralization" had seized the republicans; that they have "broken up into roving, irresponsible bands, acknowledging no leader."

Fletcher said the recent poll showed "17 states voting a majority opposed to President Roosevelt's acts and policies" indicating a change from a previous canvass when 47 states approved these policies "on the whole." It meant, he said, that "the people are fed up with ballyhoo."

Returning to the capital after two months abroad, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, the democratic leader, also referred to the poll and said his impression was "the democratic majority in the senate will be increased" and that while some house seats will be lost to republicans, others would be captured.

Senator Tom Connally, democrat, Texas, expressed virtually the same opinion on the political situation and when questioned about claims that the government was hampering business, said:

"If the government hadn't got in business when it did, there wouldn't be any business now. What has business done to help out? Business in general has sought to help cure the depression principally by complaining. We've loaned business money for every type of enterprise. What else could we do unless we put business on the dole?"

"A lot of fellows want to bellyache so they talk about lack of confidence," Robinson made known that after a

All Farm School Grads Employed---Chapman

MACON, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Farming was described today by Paul W. Chapman, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of Georgia, as the "safest occupation in this country so far as permanent security is concerned."

Dean Chapman was speaking at the annual meeting of the Georgia organization of the Future Farmers of America, and said that "a single graduate of the college of agriculture was out of employment or on the relief rolls today."

The star Georgia planter will be selected at tomorrow's session, at which time 34 awards will be made to Georgia planters who have made outstanding records over a period of years.

20,000 Silk Workers Threatening to Strike

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Twenty thousand silk and rayon dyers and finishers in the Paterson area will strike next Thursday unless, in the meantime, their employers accede to the demands for a closed shop.

At a meeting last night union leaders voted unanimously to carry out their plans for a strike at the expiration of the contract under which the men have worked for the past year.

MAN IS ROBBED OF $27 BY YOUNG BANDIT TRIO

Three armed white youths, each about 25 years of age, robbed L. J. Brewer, of 676 West Peachtree street, of $27 Friday night, Brewer reported to police.

He said he was en route home with the money belonging to the laundry where he is employed when a car containing the three men drew up beside him. All the robbers pointed pistols at him, he said, and forced him to turn over the cash. The bandits escaped. Brewer said the robbery occurred almost directly in front of his home.

Nacoochee Guild Names Chairmen And Makes Plans

Committee chairmen were appointed and plans made for the membership drive of the Nacoochee Guild at the initial fall meeting held at the Piedmont Driving Club Wednesday.

Mrs. Jeff Hutchings, chairman, presided, and other officers assisting were Mrs. Murray Hubbard, honorary chairman; Mrs. A. M. Anderson, recording secretary; Mrs. W. F. Minnich, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Roy G. Merry, treasurer.

Mrs. Hutchings outlined plans for the piano artists ensemble which the guild will sponsor at a later date, and spoke of the gratifying response which the series of radio broadcasts had obtained in connection with the membership drive.

The guild was organized in 1930 by Mrs. Murray Hubbard, with the objective of raising $1,000 a year to assist in providing for the maintenance of the school. This has been accomplished every year; by Mesdames committees sponsoring entertainments and through the membership fee, which is $1 a year.

The school was founded in 1927, and has among its benefactors the Carnegie Foundation and John D. Rockefeller Jr. The most distinctive work done by the school is the co-operative farming plan which has been adopted by the Near East Foundation for use in Bulgaria and Syria.

He is now connected with the Florida Power and Light Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Leach are at home at the James hotel.

Household Arts By ALICE BROOKS

Put crocheted edgings on your linens and have a decoration that will outlast the piece itself. This varied collection lends itself to a great number of things. Do them in a twine and you can have a smart shelving. Use a fine cotton and you can have an edging dainty enough for a handkerchief. Collars, cuffs and jabots can be made of the one edging. You can go ahead and just enjoy crocheting the edgings and, then when you're all done, decide on what you'll use them. They range in width from 3-4 to 4 inches and each, of course, is varied by using a thread of a different weight.

In pattern 5159 you will find detailed instructions for the edgings; illustrations of these and of all stitches needed; suggestions for their use, and material requirements.

Passive Defense.

There are many active measures a defensive player may take to bring about the declarer's downfall. Honors may be undered, entries may be killed, West followed to show lead and so on. On certain hands, however, the best line of defense that can be adopted is a passive one. In other words, the player should merely avoid the issue in the all-important suit as long as possible and thus make the declarer do all the guessing. As a result of this defensive policy, West followed to show lead and so on. On certain hands, however, the best line of defense that can be adopted is a passive one. ## McGugin Picks Colts To Beat Crimson Today

By Dan McGugin,
Head Football Coach, Vanderbilt University.

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance.)
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19.—Angels would fear to tread into the problem of picking the winner of the Tennessee-Alabama game. These games are usually very close.

Both teams have lost many veterans since 1933. Tennessee play Mississippi last Saturday, but have not seen Alabama this year. Both teams have great punters and great passers. Alabama has shown more cohesion and more scoring power.

Tennessee's squad is made up of fast, rugged, hard-hitting men with a great sparkling in Moses—the kind that may lead you out of the wilderness any time during a game. Alabama has lost many fine forwards. I give Tennessee the edge, because I think she will be a little more dangerous at the passing game.

GOOD FOOTBALL.
Vanderbilt has played good football but does not have the running power of either Alabama or Tennessee. Auburn has shown remarkably steady improvement and I look for a close game. Vanderbilt possibly having the shade because of greater experience, but Auburn may win.

Florida has a dashing, well-coached team. Chuck Anderson is bringing North Carolina State along, as his fine victory Saturday over South Carolina showed, but I look for Florida to be a little better.

I pick Tulane to win from Georgia, because in Simons and others Tulane has some great running backs. The handicap of the trip by Georgia to New Orleans is something to consider. Tulane should be slightly better. Unless Michigan improves, which is not only possible but very probable, Georgia Tech can win. Georgia Tech has a better team than her games against Vanderbilt and Duke indicate.

North Carolina should be a shade better than Kentucky. North Carolina have fine coaching. North Carolina's victory over Georgia indicates she is stronger.

I. S. U. GAME.
Arkansas has a great football team. Louisiana also has one. Louisiana has had four seasons of losing, but already met Rice, Southern Methodist and Auburn. These games should help Louisiana, which has a fine, well-balanced team.

Mississippi sustained a bad shock against Tennessee, but should win from Howard. While Tennessee was beating Mississippi, 27-0, the splendid Alabama team was scoring 41 points on Mississippi. Tennessee has more to work with than Southern and should win this game.

The Army shows good judgment in having a development schedule—games against fair teams, but inferior enough to permit Army to develop offensive cohesion. Swannee is in for a bad day.

The development of football in the North Carolina section the last few years is due to Wallace Wade. The teams in this section had not been taking the game very seriously. Wade, a splendid coach, is a great player, has brought the Duke team forward remarkably. The other colleges will have to take the game seriously or they won't win any games from Wallace Wade's teams.

PETRELS FAVORED

Socrates Chalkas was on the verge of drinking black coffee after the manner of the old Irish immigrants, but he reconsidered and will attempt to make himself as unpleasant as possible to the Olethere players.

Coach John H. Robinson, starting line today will include the "heavy" backfield and the regular opening forward wall. In the backfield will be Helton Clark, quarterback, a triple-threat star; Conner, fullback, a triple-threat star; and Captain Frank Miltick, powerhouse fullback. Miltick, who is considered the greatest all-around player in Gold and Black history, is a great punter and is a fleet open field runner.

The line will be as follows: Hank Freeman and Tully Thompson, ends; Willie Bell Robinson and Jim Darr, center; tackle; Jack McNeely and Lamar Adams, guards; and Jim Massey, center.

PURYEAR IS POSSIBILITY.
It is likely that Jack Puryear, great little triple-threat quarterback who alternates with Clark, will be able to play part of the game. Puryear, who was injured in practice early in the week but has come around rapidly under the care of Trainer Stacy Rowell.

Other reserve backs who will play are Sully Sullivan, Sam Leslie, Hoyt Farmer and Bill Borman.

Olethere's offensive has shown improvement along with a fast, charging, hard-blocking line. Robinson, McNeely, Adams, and Freeman have played a particularly fine brand of ball recently.

The Petrels are prepared to stop Rollins' passing attack and in Clark and Puryear, whose effectiveness may be somewhat below par, should have two kickers able to match anything the Tars can offer in the department.

VARIED ATTACK.
The Petrels attack, always spectacular, will offer double spinners, double reserves, submarine, line and forward passes and straight line punners, fake spinners and other deceptive plays.

The Petrels have added a couple of new spinners designed for special use in this, their fifth game.

Olethere's amazing comeback this year is made all the more amazing by the fact that the team has little or no line reserves. And yet the Petrels are playing some of the best football to be seen in this section.

They're not doing it with mirrors. The Petrels simply are playing ball with what they've got. They are playing with a flaming spirit for the alumni coaches, John Patrick and Harry Wren. What positions there are lacking in reserves, they get the best care of by playing the full sixty minutes. And playing them well.

The game today is highly recommended. Olethere is favored to win its fourth game in five starts, but Rollins will offer a strong challenge. In all events, it will be an interesting contest.

Alumni Team Plays
Columbus Devils
COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 19.—Former heroes of Columbus High school football teams will return to the gridiron Saturday to play the present Blue Devils team at the local high school at Memorial stadium. Former stars who will compete include Harry and Herb Garrett, Tommy Richardson, Billy King, Fred Anderson, Albert Turner, John Barfield and Julian Marks.

As Winter Pot For Pro Golfers

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The professional golfing caravan's ranks have been split up for the winter season, with an all-star group headed for Australia, but the shotmakers remaining in America will fire away at a bigger group of golfers in the campaign.

Already 19 tournaments, with purses aggregating $63,000, have been booked by Robert E. Harlow, manager of the Professional Golfers' Association. Harlow anticipates that the pros may make a stake of more than $70,000 to shoot in the winter.

The richest event on the long list is the $100,000 Miami-Biltmore open, which will be put up by the Professional Golfers' Association. Harlow anticipates that the pros may make a stake of more than $70,000 to shoot in the winter.

Next in importance from a cash standpoint is the Glendale (Cal.) open with $5,000 posted. Purses of $5,000 each will be put up for the Los Angeles open, Agua Caliente open and the Augusta (Ga.) masters invitation, in which Bob Jones again will compete with his old rivals, Jones helped inaugurate the Augusta tournament last March but failed to finish among the first 12.

As Winter Pot For Pro Golfers

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The professional golfing caravan's ranks have been split up for the winter season, with an all-star group headed for Australia, but the shotmakers remaining in America will fire away at a bigger group of golfers in the campaign.

Already 19 tournaments, with purses aggregating $63,000, have been booked by Robert E. Harlow, manager of the Professional Golfers' Association. Harlow anticipates that the pros may make a stake of more than $70,000 to shoot in the winter.

The richest event on the long list is the $100,000 Miami-Biltmore open, which will be put up by the Professional Golfers' Association. Harlow anticipates that the pros may make a stake of more than $70,000 to shoot in the winter.

Next in importance from a cash standpoint is the Glendale (Cal.) open with $5,000 posted. Purses of $5,000 each will be put up for the Los Angeles open, Agua Caliente open and the Augusta (Ga.) masters invitation, in which Bob Jones again will compete with his old rivals, Jones helped inaugurate the Augusta tournament last March but failed to finish among the first 12.

Tournaments so far scheduled:

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—

The stock market remained unbroken today. Trading was easier all around in financial markets, but losses were small for the most part and price movements were fixed as Wall Street waited for news to stir speculation.

Stocks traded closely to the groove around the upper limits of the recent trading range. The market was all around in financial markets, but losses were small for the most part and price movements were fixed as Wall Street waited for news to stir speculation.

Some attention was diverted to foreign exchange in connection with the conference of the European gold bloc nations at Brussels. The gold currencies lost ground to the dollar and the British pound the latter moving up about a cent to $4.95.

Traders were cautious, preferring to wait and see what trends would develop out of the steady course of security and commodity markets. With important talks by President Roosevelt on the schedule, there was added incentive for waiting.

Non-ferrous metal shares steadied with the spot price of silver. Packing shares, however, were not so sure, with a few shares of the latter showing a slight decline.

Retail demand for goods was described by Dun & Bradstreet's weekly review as running 8 to 12 per cent ahead of last year's.

Cram's reports estimated automobile production this week had increased 3,600 units over the preceding week. The total, at 200,000, was only 1,050 under that of the like week of last year.

Railroad carloadings last week recorded a seasonal gain, with the total, at 200,000, was only 1,050 under that of the like week of last year.

Standard Oil Company of New Jersey posted a reduction of 1.2 cent a gallon at Baltimore, making the new service station price 8 1/2 cents a gallon, excluding 2 cents in taxes.

The Jersey company's subsidiaries, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, effective today, reduced gasoline prices 1.2 cent at Knoxville, Tenn., to 10 cents a gallon on regular grades, exclusive of taxes.

ROOSEVELT IMPLEMENTS 'BONUS' MUST WAIT UNTIL U. S. CARES FOR THOSE LESS FORTUNATE

NO DATE IS SET FOR TRIAL OPENING

Unanimous Decision of Five Justices Prevents Reopening of Hearing of Habeas Corpus Plea.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Bruno Hauptmann was brought to New Jersey late tonight to go on trial for the abduction-murder of baby Charles A. Lindbergh.

Three and a half hours after the appellate division of the New York supreme court turned down his plea to avoid extradition, the alien convict was lodged in cell No. 1 of the Hunterdon county jail.

Guarded by New Jersey state policemen, he was rushed in an automobile from the Bronx jail, across the Hudson river to this Jersey country town.

Crowd Awails. Crowds of curious townfolk, who gathered about the courthouse and adjoining jail full an hour before his arrival, had only a quick glimpse at the prisoner as, handcuffed to an officer, he was hurried into the women's office.

Without ceremony he was led to his cell—a silent, somewhat bewildered figure.

The jail is about 10 miles from the former Hopewell estate of Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh—the home from which the state of New Jersey contends Hauptmann stole the flyer's first-born son the night of March 1, 1932.

Hauptmann has asserted, in his alibi, his innocence of the crime and his absence from New Jersey the day it was perpetrated.

In an evening session, however, the appellate division in New York turned down this plea, decided that the state was entitled to a writ of habeas corpus.

Five justices of the appellate division of the supreme court upheld Justice Ernest E. L. Hammer, of the Bronx, in refusing to grant a writ of habeas corpus.

Of a last-minute plea by Hauptmann's counsel that he had new evidence to show the prisoner was in New York the day of the kidnapping, the justices said:

"This contention is in direct conflict with documentary evidence already in the record."

Swift TB Cure Claimed In Dark Room Treatment

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 19.—(UP)—A "dark room" treatment was credited today with curing a "bad case" of tuberculosis in seven weeks.

The discovery was announced by F. J. Burgess, a general practitioner. His theory, contrary to all accepted methods of fresh air and sunshine treatments, was based on the principle that tuberculosis germs thrive in sunlight, as do any normal organisms.

Leonard Grisham, 23, was Dr. Burgess' experimental patient. He was placed in a garage, painted black inside and out and absolutely darkened. Except for an electric fan air force system, the room was sealed. The patient was permitted to exercise at night, but otherwise was kept entirely at rest. He emerged from the garage 13 pounds heavier and "completely cured," Dr. Burgess said.

20 PLANES POISED IN GREAT BRITAIN FOR $50,000 RACE

Melbourne, Australia, Is Goal for Greatest Speed and Distance Contest in Air History.

MILDENHALL AIRDROME, England, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Twenty-five airplanes tonight awaited the dawn, and the roaring flight into the southeast over 12,000 miles of jungles, mountain, desert and sea, toward a pot of gold in Melbourne.

Paced by J. A. and Amy Johnson Mollison, the perfectly tuned craft will soar away in the cavalcade at 45-second intervals beginning at 6:30 a. m. Colonel Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, flying the colors of the United States, follow the Mollisons on the drawing.

The other United States entries, Miss Jacqueline Cochran and Wesley Smith, take off ninth, and John H. Wright and John Bolando, tenth.

The race, broken this afternoon by the visit of the Prince of Wales and the unexpected arrival of King George and Queen Mary, settled over the field again immediately after the royal party had left.

One of the last to pronounce a plane ready after an all-day vigil supervising the work was Smith, Miss Cochran's co-pilot. It was not until long after darkness that he was able to "start" the engine.

After a hectic 24 hours the mechanics finished with the plane of Cathcart Jones and Ken Waller, damaged in a test flight.

Colonel James C. Fitzmaurice, Irish Free State entry, tonight with the dapper Irishman it impossible to get his American-built plane.

ROBINSON SEARCH VEERS SOUTHWARD AS BILLS SHOW UP

Melvin Purvis Pitches Camp at Cincinnati. Kentucky Proceeds With Prosecution Plans.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Thomas Henry Robinson Jr. tonight pounded the tortuous trails of the pursued as federal agents and police kept sharp-eyed vigil from Tennessee to the Great Lakes.

Two $5 bills included in the ransom paid for the release of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll reported in Tennessee resulted in the opinion that the alleged abductor might be homeward bound to Nashville. The discovery was made by H. W. Summers, president of the Citizens Bank & Trust Co. at Warburg, a Cumberland mountain town.

Other leads were discovered in Chicago, where James Alexander, a negro, announced he had seen the fugitive. He claimed to have identified as Robin a man who asked his help in repairing a tire.

Melvin H. Purvis, commander of the justice department's famed Dillinger squad, pitched camp in Cincinnati, Ohio has furnished many reports of Robinson's presence.

While the hunt was going ahead, Thomas Henry Robinson Jr. sat on his porch in Nashville, free under $25,000 bond. He, too, is charged with complicity in the affair.

Determination not to go through with the Stoll abduction was advanced by Mrs. Robinson Jr. as the reason he was carrying a knife when arrested.

This was announced by Clem W. Higgins, defense counsel, after he had conferred with the woman at Jefferson county jail where she is held in default of $50,000 bail. She is charged with participation in the kidnapping for which her husband is sought.

Preparations for the trial of Robinson, a veteran criminal practitioner, are going forward.

PETITION IS DRAWN BY GARLAND GROUP

Paper Seeking To Bar Lindsay's Name Expected To Be Filed Today.

The anticipated petition enjoining Vess S. Morgan, DeKalb county, from printing the name of Paul L. Lindsay on the DeKalb county ballot for the coming general election, is expected to be filed early this morning in the DeKalb superior court.

The petitioners, according to Judge A. J. Hartley, who with Judge L. P. Skeen, was said to have drawn up the petition Friday, are prominent residents of DeKalb county.

Morgan had stated that he would put Lindsay's name on the ballot as the nominee of the DeKalb county democratic executive committee.

For the state legislature, while Robert Garland's name would be carried as the regular party nominee on the election ballot, Garland was declared nominee of the state primary.

September 12 by the state democratic executive committee, at the Macon convention October 4. The action of the state committee was taken after Garland had charged irregularities in voting at the DeKalb polls, and had charged that Lindsay did not publish the list of his campaign expenditures on or before October 2, as is required.

Judge Hartley said: "It requires no argument to show that one political party cannot nominate two different persons to fill one office. If two nominees for the same office are filed one or the other must be spurious. Both cannot be genuine."

"Mr. Garland was declared by the highest tribunal of the state democratic party as the true democratic nominee. To print Lindsay's name as the democratic nominee on the ballot or any other candidates who were not duly nominated under the rules of the democratic party of Georgia would be decidedly such a misrepresentation and deception as the Australian ballot system is designed to prohibit. The door of fraud and deception will stand wide open and no power to close it."

Garland in a statement issued Friday pointed out that if steps were not taken to prohibit the carrying of names other than the nominee of the state democratic party on the ballot, the purposes of the democratic primaries would be defeated and an undue number of so-called democratic candidates and nominees would be running in competition to the true democratic nominee at all general elections.

Legion To March Today In Spectacular Parade

World War Vets, With Bands and Drum and Bugle Corps Will Provide Colorful Spectacle—Procession Starts at 5:30 P. M.

The most spectacular and colorful parade that ever strutted through the streets of Atlanta will form at Whitehall street and Trinity avenue at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. Marching to the blare of bands and the rattle and call of drum and bugle corps, they will pass through the heart of the city, down Whitehall and Peachtree, West Peachtree to Third street, to Fowler to Grant field.

It is the pre-convention parade of the Legionnaires, marching thousands who are on their way to the national Legion convention at Miami. They have stopped over for two days in Atlanta, for a warm-up celebration, a pre-convention jamboree that will serve as an appetizer, a peppy cocktail for the big doings next week in Florida.

This pre-convention program, sponsored by Atlanta Post No. 1 and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has attracted thousands of Legionnaires, their wives and friends to Atlanta. They came in by special train after special train all day yesterday. Automobiles, buses and motorcycles added their hundreds to the crowd and by Friday night the city was full of the colorful caps that designate the men of the Legion, the "buddies" who passed together through the training camps of 1917 and the muddy battlefields of France.

20,000 Expected Here. More thousands will arrive today, with the expectation, already assured of fulfillment, that at least 20,000 will be here for the parade this afternoon and the band, drum and bugle corps and drill contests which will be staged, immediately following the parade at Grant field.

Parade totaling $1,300 in cash have been offered for the best drill units, for the best bands and the best drum corps, while plaques and medals valued at $200 will be awarded to the parade units making the best appearance as they march through Atlanta.

This afternoon, from 2 to 4, a pre-parade program will be broadcast by Radio Station WGST, with some of the most famous Legion musical units taking part.

The official reviewing stand at the Wincoff hotel will be the point of salute for the parade. Occupying the stand will be Governor Eugene Talmadge, United States Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., State Legion Commander Sidney Camp, State Commander DeLacey Allen, of Atlanta.

MAN IS SHOT DEAD IN FIGHT IN CAFE

W. D. Wood, 26, Killed on Edgewood Ave.; Slayer Claims Self Defense.

W. D. Wood, 26, of an East Clifton road address, was shot and instantly killed Friday night in a restaurant at 600 Edgewood avenue, Northeast.

J. R. Cathey, 41, garage mechanic, who was tending the restaurant for W. D. Phelps, the proprietor, and who told police he shot Wood in self-defense, was being held at police station on "suspicion."

Joe Newman, of 574 Glenwood avenue, S. E., and Al L. Chabell, a traveling salesman residing at an Atlanta hotel, were seated in the automobile in front of the restaurant at the time of the shooting and substantiated Cathey's story to police.

Newman said that Wood, accompanied by his father, C. H. Wood, entered the restaurant and Wood struck Newman in the middle of the forehead, Newman reported to police.

Wood's father said the shooting was unprovoked, but refused to give his account of the events which precipitated the shooting. He was taken to police station, questioned and released.

Funeral services will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

Gasoline Price Cut 2 1-2 Cents in Atlanta

Reductions in the retail price of gasoline sold in Atlanta, ranging from 1 to 2 1-2 cents per gallon, were announced Friday by the Standard Oil Company and the Wofford Oil Company and will go into effect today, it was stated.

While other companies were not ready to announce similar reductions, it was stated that all companies would be obliged to follow the action of the two companies, and it is probable that all companies dealing in the Atlanta area will stabilize their prices in conformity with the new prices early in the week.

Ethyl gasoline, which local Standard Oil stations have been selling for 24 cents a gallon, will sell today for 21 1-2 cents. The price of the first grade gasoline will be reduced from 22 cents to 19 1-2 cents per gallon. The cheaper grade will be reduced this morning from 20 to 19 cents. Standard Oil Company announced.

Wofford Oil Company announced a reduction to 19 1-2 cents on first grade gasoline and a similar cut to 19 cents per gallon for the cheaper grade.

ATHEISTIC STATE, CHURCH ABOLITION URGED FOR MEXICO

Chamber of Deputies Asks Presidential Action To Ban All Religious Activity in Nation.

MEXICO, D. F., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies voted tonight to request President Abelardo Rodriguez to expel all Catholic bishops and archbishops from Mexico as a step toward solving the Catholic question permanently.

Several speakers, in a stormy session in which Catholics were charged with supporting the current agitation against the government's plan for socialistic education, urged the creation of an atheistic state by abolishing all religion.

The proposal for the expulsion of Catholic bishops and archbishops was made by Deputy Luis Enriquez Erro, and was approved unanimously by the chamber. The body voted to petition the national revolutionary (government) party to transmit its request to President Rodriguez.

"We must open the minds of the people by teaching them to see the world in the light of science," Erro said. "We cannot do this while the church makes them believe in God. We must tell them that God is a myth, a word, a grotesque thing."

A comparatively small number of high officials of the Catholic church remain in Mexico, a number having left the country at the height of the anti-church movement several years ago.

Several university students were arrested while allegedly attempting to buy arms and ammunition and a number of other persons were detained for agitating against socialistic education—a project for primary schools which the government plans to effect through a constitutional amendment.

The senate approved the constitutional reform to make socialistic education compulsory. The measure was passed by a vote of 114 to 10.

The approval of two-thirds is necessary to make it effective.

JAPAN WILL FIGHT FOR PARTY CLAIM

Tokyo Expected To Conditionally Accept Less Than Actual Equality.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Japan wants Great Britain and the United States to recognize the principle of parity in naval defensive armaments before she shows her hand on the tri-power conversations here, the Associated Press learned authoritatively today.

If the other two nations agree to the principle, however, it was expected the Japanese would be willing to accept less than actual tonnage equality.

That would be Japan's way of getting rid of the ranking word "ratio," the sore point that led Nippon to the decision to denounce the Washington and London naval treaties.

The three delegations stand mutually pledged to exert every effort to avert a compromise that would avert an armaments race.

Norman H. Davis and Rear Admiral William H. Standley, the American conferees, exchanged such assurances with Sir John Simon and Commander B. M. Eyres Monsell, of the British delegation, yesterday, and similar pledges passed among the

Episcopalians Uphold Title of 'Protestant'

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 19.—(AP)—After the most eventful session in its 104th history, the fifty-first triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church today rejected a proposal to eliminate the word "Protestant" from the church's name.

Evenly divided sentiment on the "high church" vs. "low church" issue was reflected in the vote by which the house of deputies defeated the measure 234 to 207, after hot debate.

New clouds of controversy arose over the house of bishops, where a special committee of 10 reported on the "social service" resolutions, covering war, the munitions industry, race oppression, unemployment insurance, old age pensions, child labor and collective bargaining.

The Right Rev. Edward L. Parsons, bishop of California, promptly branded the report a "strangling document" and declared its expression on war "was just what you would expect from a body of the Anglican communion."

Storekeeper Is Killed By Own Burglar Trap

HUNTERSVILLE, N. C., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Monroe C. Groves, country storekeeper, had always been afraid burglars would break in and carry away his stock of goods.

Ten years ago he built a contraption so that anyone entering the store at night would automatically pull the trigger of a double-barrel shotgun trained upon the door.

Each night the 73-year-old merchant would detach a little string before entering the store, by detaching the string the death-dealing contraption was made harmless.

But the other night he forgot. The gun was discharged for the first time in a decade. The load of the gun felled the storekeeper. Yesterday he died in a Charlotte sanatorium.

HOPKINS REVEALS PLANS TO BUILD RELIEF COLONIES

Work Soon Will Be Started on 12 Projects To Provide Homes for 150 to 700 Families.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, said at his press conference today that 12 rural-industrial communities, housing from 150 to 700 families each, would be built immediately with relief funds in different sections of the country.

The administrator disclosed that detailed plans for about 50 such projects have been made at relief headquarters but that money to build all of them was not yet available.

"I'm convinced that every one of the 12 communities which we're going to build at this time will be self-liquidating," Hopkins said.

Pointing to another project in progress in Arkansas he said that 200 houses already had been built there at a cost of between $650 and $800. This project is to include 700 homes ultimately, scattered over 28,000 or 29,000 acres. Hopkins said the amount "actually being laid out" for each unit, including farming tracts of 20 to 30 acres, was between $1,200 and $1,300.

Relief Roll Families. All of the rural communities built with relief labor and relief funds are to be occupied by families taken from relief rolls.

Hopkins said five or six industries, two or three of them nationally known, were trying to go into the Red House community. He said some of these would be permitted to establish plants there, and that relief officials in charge of the project would make no effort to regulate the industries established.

"Some day we're got to have housing in America where people can pay 25 per cent of their income for a decent place to live," Hopkins declared.

Asked how soon that day was coming, he added:

"As far as I'm concerned it's coming damn soon."

Plans for additional government-financed housing in rural and suburban areas were disclosed by subcommittee members.

They said money had been allocated from the $25,000,000 fund for their disposal, for 23 projects which would not be announced in detail until the land for them had been purchased.

Some of the states in which these homesteads are to be built, and the tentative allotments for them, included: Alabama, $200,000; Florida, $212,500; North Carolina, $100,000; South Carolina, $184,000; and Arkansas, $203,000.

DISABLED AND SICK WILL BE ASSISTED, SAYS PRESIDENT

VETS ARE WELL OFF AS GROUP, HE SAYS

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Dedicating near here the first veterans' hospital to be built in his administration, President Roosevelt late today reminded those who served in the World War that thousands of "underprivileged" persons were worse off than themselves and strongly implied the payment of the bonus must await the recovery of this group.

There was no mention of the word "bonus" in the address, but the forty-odd thousands who stood in the natural amphitheater before him heard the president make what was generally regarded as his clearest pronouncement on the issue, even though it was by inference, since he took office a year and a half ago.

To Care for Ailing. He made it clear that disabled and sick veterans would be accorded the "best treatment which medical and surgical science can supply."

But he added there were hundreds of thousands of "largely forgotten" persons in the urban slums and "black eddies remote from the active stream of life" who required government aid, and the elimination of this "definite drag against the return of prosperity" should be the first aim of veterans and the nation as a whole.

A sound financial policy would be followed in providing aid, he said.

He added he was sure the services men would agree that the care of the "disabled, the sick, the destitute and the starving is the first thing, not only because he was confident of their patriotism and their understanding of relief needs, but for two other reasons.

"The first is that our federal government and our state governments have given to them (the veterans) many privileges not accorded to other citizens, and the other reason is that it has been amply demonstrated that the veterans of the World War, today in the prime of life, are better off on the average, from the point of view of employment and of annual income than the average of any other great group of our citizens."

Move to Block Bonus. The president's speech was seen by many as a move to head-off any attempt to place the American Legion on record for the bonus at its Miami convention next week.

Fourteen state Legion departments and that of the District of Columbia have adopted resolutions advocating immediate cash payment. They are said to represent about 38 per cent of the convention's voting strength.

To Protect Credit. While making his renewed pledge to veterans that they would be amply provided for, the president gave assurances to the business world that in

HEALTH MEASURE APPROVED BY KEY

18,000 Food, Drink Dispensers Must Stand Physical Examinations.

Mayor James L. Key Friday approved the ordinance providing that all persons handling foods and dispensing drinks for public consumption shall undergo semi-annual physical examinations to insure that they are free of communicable diseases. About 18,000 persons will be affected, according to estimates.

Key's action followed a public hearing at the city hall. The measure provides, among other things, that all employers must furnish a list of employees affected by the ordinance to the health department before November 1, and that all persons engaged in the business of handling foods and drinks must submit to the examination and procure certificates of health on or before November 15.

Councilman Joseph E. Berman, of the fourth ward, and Aubrey Milam, of the eighth, were the authors of the original measure, which was amended to meet objections offered by several varying groups of persons affected and represented to council.

It was passed by council at the last session of that body without a dissenting vote.

The mayor promised a group representing workers that he would use his influence to obtain examinations for $1 each. Certificates will cost 50 cents each. He said he believed the medical profession would cooperate in the effort to reduce the examination prices within the reach of those making the sales.

The measure was sponsored solely in the interest of better health and as a protection to the public generally.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Coughs

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirin, the two-minute relief for colds and coughs due to colds. Proclaimed by the people as quicker and more effective than whiskey, or rock and rye.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to tell the clerk to serve you two teaspoonfuls of Aspirin. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for

Text of Address By Chief Executive

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Here is the text of President Roosevelt's address here today dedicating a new veterans' hospital.

In coming to Roanoke to take part in the dedication of the latest addition to our chain of veterans' hospitals, I do not seek to enumerate or catalogue the many steps which have been taken by your federal government to care for its veterans of many wars.

Most of you in this great audience are from this neighborhood and in the years to come the men who will occupy this hospital will be your friends and your neighbors. I commend them to your care.

You see before you today a monument which is representative of the national policy that the government is seeking to give aid not only to veterans but also to hundreds of thousands of other citizens—men, women and children who, handicapped by environment or by circumstance, lack today what reasonable people call the essentials of modern civilization.

UNDERRIVALLED RETARD NATION.

For many years we have seen a constantly growing realization of the fact that any large or small group which lacks the elementary necessities of proper food, of decent housing, of adequate medical attention, of essential education, drags down the level of the country as a whole and retards its progress.

In one sense these men and women and children are not forgotten people for the very good reason that we have known of their existence and appreciated their plight for many years. In another sense, however, they have been forgotten for it is only in recent years that government has undertaken to help them on a national scale.

The further we go in our survey to find out who these people are and where they live, the more appalled I am by the magnitude of our task. Most of us know in general terms of the slum conditions which exist in many of our cities. Most of us know, from hearsay at least, of people who have lived for generations in back alleys remote from the active stream of life. But we have failed to realize the existence of the underprivileged who are present and largely forgotten in practically every one of the more than three thousand counties of the 48 states of the union.

IMPROVEMENT OF LOT OBLIGATION OF ALL.

The improvement of their hard lot is a definite obligation on all of our citizens and I am confident that the veterans of our American wars will be among the first to recognize this fact.

The improvement of their hard lot compels our immediate exertions, not only because of the individual human beings who suffer today, but, even more important to the future of America, because future generations of American citizens will become the descendants of those who are now in need. In this thought also the veterans of our wars will go along.

Let it be well remembered that the hundreds of thousands of men and women and children to whom I have referred, scattered throughout our nation, have no special hospitals for their care, have no medical attention, such as we will provide here, have no good food and decent rooming such as will be provided in this veterans' home; have no opportunity for adequate education, and can but suffer the ills of their lives according to their own individual circumstances.

You have heard it said that we must restore prosperity. You have heard some kind people say that the country is distinctly better off from a material point of view than it was last year. I am inclined to agree with them. Other people, who fail to think things through, forget that one cause of the depression which we are beginning to leave behind, was the very existence of hundreds of thousands of men, women and children who have been and continue to be a definite drag against the return of prosperity.

MUST REMOVE CAUSES OF DEPRESSION.

It must remain our constant objective to eliminate the causes of depression and the drags on prosperity. It will cost money to do this. In the spending of this money we must have due regard for the good credit of the government of the United States. That means that we can not spend at once or in any given year all that we could usefully spend.

I mentioned once upon a time that we must do first things first; the care of the disabled, the sick, the destitute and the starving is the first thing. To this the veterans of American wars give their approval in agreement with the overwhelming majority of our other citizens.

VETERANS BETTER OFF THAN OTHER CLASSES.

I make this statement in regard to the veterans of America not only because I am confident of their patriotism and their understanding of our national needs, but also for other reasons. The first is that our federal government and our state governments have given to them many privileges not accorded to other citizens, and the other reason is that it has been amply demonstrated that the veterans of the World War, today in the prime of life, are better off from the point of view of employment and of annual income than the average of any other great group of our citizens.

These facts, let this great monument—this veterans' hospital and the other institutions of their kind throughout the country—serve as a symbolic and bold denial of any careless statement that the United States does not take care of those who have served it in war—and as a symbolic affirmation of our belief in the undying patriotic willingness of our veterans to put first things first.

ROOSEVELT SEEKS DELAY ON BONUS

Spending money for the down-trodden "we must have due regard for the good credit of the government of the United States."

"That means," he said, "that we cannot spend at once or in any given year all that we could usefully spend." He said he agreed with those "kind people" who say the country is better off today than a year ago, but others who "failed to think things through" forget that one cause of the depression which we are beginning to leave behind, was the very existence of hundreds of thousands of men, women and children who have been and continue to be a definite drag against the return of prosperity.

"It must be our constant objective to eliminate the causes of depression and the drags on prosperity," he said, adding that the further the administration goes in the survey to find those in distress "the more appalled I am by the magnitude of our task."

He compared needy and distress groups to a slow vessel, asserting "the speed of a fleet is the speed of its slowest vessel and the speed of its army is the speed of its slowest unit."

Following the address, made from a stand erected in front of the main building of a group of 16 rising here below the Blue Ridge mountains at a cost of $1,700,000, the president boarded at Salem the special train which brought him from Washington and headed for Roanoke.

To Receive Degrees.

There, around noon tomorrow, he and Governor George C. Peery of Virginia will receive honorary degrees from the 241-year-old College of William and Mary and participate in the ceremonies inaugurating John Stewart Bryan, Richmond publisher, as the institution's new president.

After the ceremonies and luncheon at the college, Mr. Roosevelt will drive to Yorktown, about 15 miles away, and board the yacht Sequoia for the trip

Mayor Key Greets Chevrolet Caravan

Three hundred and fifty Chicagoans, members of the American Legion, were met at Marietta, Ga., late yesterday afternoon by James L. Key, mayor of Atlanta. These legionnaires are on their way to Miami, Fla., to attend the American Legion national convention, which opens Monday. They are driving through from Chicago in a caravan of 75 Chevrolet town sedans, the official courtesy car of the convention. These cars are to be a feature of the mammoth parade in Atlanta this afternoon. The above shows from left to right, John E. Smith, C. C. back to Washington, arriving Monday morning.

Roanoke, dressed all up with bunting and flags, turned out en masse to welcome the president here. It was the first official visit of a chief executive to this city and thousands lined the streets to cheer the president as he drove the 10 miles from the station and through near-by Salers to the hospital site.

The president expressed his appreciation for the welcome in extemporaneous remarks before his prepared address.

Woodrum Presides.

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum, whose home is in Roanoke, presided at the dedication, while Governor Peery introduced the president. He added the entrance to the hospital grounds, the 11th field artillery of the Virginia national guard fired a salute of 21 guns, Roosevelt arriving at 10:30 a. m.

Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs who made the trip from Washington with the president, in a brief address, said the hospital, to be completed here in February, was one of 78 forming a "great network" of veterans' institutions over the land representing an outlay by the government of approximately $127,000,000.

These hospitals were now caring for 49,000 veterans and others were waiting to enter them, he said. He added the institution here, of 472-bed capacity, would be available for veterans in adjoining states as well as Virginia, its area of "useful purpose" extending 150 miles.

Also on the speaker's platform were Postmaster-General Farley, Virginia's two senators, the veteran Garner Glass, and a number of members of the National Elks' Home stood on a hillside waving American flags as the train went by.

Crowds also turned out at other points and at Bedford a long single file of gray-haired members of the National Elks' Home stood on a hillside waving American flags as the train went by.

WILLIAMSBURG TO HONOR
ROOSEVELT TODAY

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Virginia's ancient capital will celebrate President's Day tomorrow when President Franklin D. Roosevelt will witness the inauguration of John Stewart Bryan as president of the nation's second oldest institution of higher learning—the college of William and Mary.

President Bryan in turn will confer upon the nation's president William and Mary's honorary degree of doctor of laws. The same honor will be conferred on Governor George C. Peery, of Virginia.

A welcome reminiscent of the days when Williamsburg was the capital of America, awaits them all.

President Roosevelt and Mr. Bryan and their party, accompanied by an academic procession will traverse historic Duke of Gloucester street, rededicating it as the last major restoration project of colonial Williamsburg which has been reconstructed by John D. Rockefeller Jr. so that it has the appearance of the city that was the hub of the nation in the eighteenth century.

The inauguration ceremonies for Mr. Bryan and those honoring President Roosevelt and Governor Peery will take place on the steps of the west portico of the old Wren building. This old building restored to the antiquity of the college founded under a royal charter in 1696 is the oldest academic building in the country. It is the center of a college which is second in age only to Harvard, President Roosevelt's alma mater.

President Roosevelt will bring the simple ceremony to its climax with the first presidential speech in Williamsburg since President Coolidge opened the sesqui-centennial anniversary celebration of the signing of the Virginia resolutions.

Upon his inauguration Mr. Bryan will be the nineteenth president of William and Mary. He was elevated to the position from the office of vice rector of the college board of visitors succeeding the late J. A. C. Chandler, whose administration since 1919 was ended by death during the summer.

Mr. Bryan is a widely traveled scholar, a journalist and newspaper publisher, a philanthropist and a civic leader. He is a native Virginian. He was born in 1871 at Brook Hill in Henrico county, and lived most of his life in the city of Richmond, where he is publisher of the Richmond News-Leader.

Americans and the Japanese, Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto and Ambassador Isueo Matsudaira, today.

The Japanese also have conferred with the British, and it was understood that their talk, too, involved like promises.

Japan's entire case for treaty revision, however, is bound up with its determination not to reveal its entire technical program before the other two powers recognize "in principle" her right to equality in defensive weapons.

That, apparently, is the stumbling block in the path to an agreement, since neither the United States nor Britain has given any hint that it would offer any such promise before discussing the Japanese technical plan.

ROBINSON SEES DIFFICULTY IN FRAMING NEW PACT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Senator Joseph T. Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, returning to the capital today after two months in Europe, said many obstacles stood in the way of a satisfactory naval arms agreement in 1934.

Robinson, who was a delegate to the London arms conference, said with reference to the projected 1935 conference, that he regretted to say "that the difficulties in the way of such an agreement appear to me to be very numerous and very great."

"Europe is seething with discontent. There are many sore spots and much fear. I do not wish to augment the difficulties or to exaggerate them, but it seems to me that frankness and a fair understanding of the situation is essential in the beginning to the accomplishment of substantial results."

Commenting on a portion of the chief executive's address, made in dedicating a new veterans' hospital at Roanoke, Va., the national commander said:

"I cannot agree with the observation made by the president 'that it has been amply demonstrated that the veterans of the World War are better off from the point of view of employment and of annual income than the average of any other great group of our citizens.'"

"The experience of those of us who have been devoted the past 15 years to the problems of the World War veterans has supplied us with ample proof to show that a vast majority are in a class of handicaps because of their service to the government in war."

GENERAL VON KLUCK PASSES IN GERMANY

Noted Field Marshal in World War Was 88 Years Old.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—(AP)—General Alexander von Kluck, the German who nearly captured Paris, died at his home today, aged 88 years. The aged field marshal long had been saddened by the death of his only grandchild, Alexandra, who suffered fatal injuries in a motor accident near Bordeaux last March.

Vos Kluck's name stood out among those of German military leaders as the man whose forces nearly took Paris in 1914.

The 85th birthday of the old fighter on May 20, 1931, was the signal for a great demonstration by the former comrades of Field Marshal von Kluck.

Celebrating at the suburban home in Grunewald with members of his family, he received loads of flowers, letters and telegrams.

The late President von Hindenburg sent an autographed photograph with cordial congratulations.

MIKE BRADY.

Around Somerville, Tenn., and in the eastern part of Shelby county, of which Memphis is the county seat, folks set their watches by Mike Brady's train during the 40 years he was the kindly engineer on the Southern railway's old "Somerville."

When one product outsells all others in its field by a tremendous margin, year after year, there is only one conclusion to draw. That product must be best.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes have become the world's largest-selling ready-to-eat cereal for that reason. Finer in flavor. Crisper and more appetizing. Uniformly good wherever you buy them.

You can get some idea of the popularity of Kellogg's Corn Flakes from such figures as these: Over 12,000,000 people eat them every day. They create a market for $50,000,000 worth of farm products yearly—including half a billion quarts of milk and cream, besides vast acreages of corn.

Like other Kellogg's Cereals you may have enjoyed, Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a wholesome food, nourishing and easy to digest. A big value too. Economical. Ready to serve.

Remember, when you buy Corn Flakes, to ask for Kellogg's, the original Corn Flakes, never equalled in quality.

accommodation," which ran from Memphis to Somerville, until lack of business forced the discontinuance of the train in 1930.

Few engineers have their names on their locomotive cabs, but the engine that pulled the "Somerville accommodation" bore in gold letters the name of Mike Brady.

F. D. R. IS OPPOSED TO CENTRAL BANK

Two New Steps in Monetary Policy of Nation Are Favored.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The administration is preparing to combat in the next congress an expected effort to establish a central bank or central monetary authority. Treasury officials were revealed today to have considered the idea themselves for several months. They marshaled a group of economists to investigate its possibilities. Now, however, it has been decided that whatever beneficial results such an institution would produce could be obtained by a little more revamping of the federal reserve system.

The primary purpose of a central bank is to provide a branch of the government a unified control over credit and the issuance of currency. Recent banking legislation, it was held, had very largely concentrated this power in the treasury and the federal reserve board.

Two New Steps Favored.
Two new steps are regarded with favor. One would give President Roosevelt authority to name the governors of the various reserve banks. Another would establish a committee

Expert Will Select Art for Uncle Sam

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The government wants to avoid being stuck when it buys art. The treasury is hiring experts to pass on paintings and sculpture intended for United States buildings.

answerable to the reserve board to take charge of the purchase and sale of government bonds by the banks of the system.

The reserve board has no supervisory power over such transactions, which are aimed at controlling the general volume of credit. The existing situation, officials believe, holds possibilities of individual reserve bank policies running counter to the purposes of the administration.

Commercial banks hold well over 50 per cent of all outstanding government bonds. The theory is that if the reserve banks buy quantities of these bonds in times of credit stringency, the commercial banks will find their interest-bearing securities replaced by cash which must be loaned if it is to yield a profit.

Credit Control.
In spite of the indifferent success which has attended the reserve system's previous efforts in this direction, it is still considered a potent method of controlling credit, or especially in times of over-expansion and too plentiful credit.

LUTHERANS PLAN COMMUNISM FIGHT

By ROBERT BUNELLE, Associated Press Staff Writer.
SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The United Lutheran church in America was disclosed as definitely enlisted in a battle against communism and "destructive social forces" by a report of its mission work today in a report by its board of American missions.

Presenting the report before the annual convention of the church, Dr. H. W. A. Hanson, head of Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa., and president of the board, said that the "most serious situation in the world today is not that a great deal has been done to its economic structure but that something has been done to the souls of men."

Needs Pointed Out.
Declaring that there can never be a "restored world until there are restored souls," Dr. Hanson said two things must be borne in mind by the church: "That radicalism, anarchy and Godlessness in a thousand forms are attempting to confound and confuse the picture, and that the church must have grown up in the world a sense of futility and a philosophy of despair."

The need of today, he added, "is for an aroused church that knows what it is in the world to do, and gives full measure of strength toward doing it."

Urging the church to arouse itself against the "forces of evil," Dr. Hanson said he regarded the whole world as in a period of transition, with the "entire history of the last 50 years locked up in the next two years and the ability of the church to restore ideas and spirituality during this period."

He explained that the board of American missions, realizing that there are millions of people beyond the financial ability of the church who are being influenced by communism, radicalism, vulgarizing agencies and the backwash of the moral sewers, must adopt a new policy to extend its sphere toward social and spiritual uplift.

Without funds to go beyond certain limits, an attempt is being made to reach areas which never would be able to support a church by volunteer workers from established churches. The report was adopted with a round of applause.

An additional appeal along the same line for a rally to raise money for fluences was voiced by Dr. Zean Corbe, executive secretary of the board. The board's report disclosed that the church has 756 American missions including 12 newly established in Canada.

As to division of funds for mission work, the board suggested 75 per cent for "planting the faith," 15 per cent for "preserving the faith" and 10 per cent for "propagating the faith."

Devotional Service.
Earlier today the convention held a special devotional service for the Lutheran churches of the world and said a special prayer for Lutherans in Germany who were described by Dr. A. B. Wentz, of Gettysburg, Pa., leader of the services, as in "great distress" and in "serious conflicts" reference to their relations with other religious bodies and with the supreme government of the realm.

In a report by the board of foreign missions today, Dr. S. W. Herman of Harrisburg, Pa., president, declared missionary work the essence of Christianity and urged stronger support of missions. He pointed out that the budget of the board had been improved by a substantial lowering of its deficit since last year.

HOUSTON SCHOOL HEAD IS TAKEN BY DEATH
MAON, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Houston F. Houser, 53, superintendent of the Houston county schools, died in a local hospital early this morning after a 10-day illness of stomach trouble.

Mr. Houser had been superintendent of the Houston county schools for the last 10 years, and was a leading citizen of the county. He was president of the Perry Civitan Club and had served as superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school there for many years.

Funeral services will be held at the Perry Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

WARDLAW TO DISCUSS CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL
QUITMAN, Ga., Oct. 19.—The weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club here next Tuesday will be featured by a talk on the Scottish Rite hospital in Atlanta for crippled children, Wardlaw C. Wardlaw, former president of the Atlanta Rotary Club and active in behalf of the hospital, which is a Shrine-Masonic charity.

There is great interest in the hospital here due to the fact that in the past a number of crippled children from Brooks have been treated there.

TRIAL OF ROSCOE LUKE IS SET FOR TUESDAY
THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 19.—Solicitor-General George R. Lilly, of the southern circuit, states that it is his intention to call the case against Roscoe Luke, charged with murder, next Tuesday morning.

There have been rumors of plans to seek a change of venue, but no steps to that end will likely be taken until the case is formally called.

Judge Luke, of the Thomasville city court, has been indicted by the Thomas county grand jury on a charge of slaying his business associate, Oscar Groover, on May 20.

MAYOR JAMES A. FORT RENAMED AT AMERICUS
AMERICUS, Ga., Oct. 19.—Mayor James A. Fort, attorney and World War veteran, was nominated here Wednesday for a third term as mayor of Americus. He received 713 votes and his opponent, J. E. Logan, polled 467.

Three aldermen, Lewis Merritt, Cooper Bradley and Will Horne, whose terms expire in December, were renominated without opposition in Wednesday's election.

NICHOLS MAN NAMED TO POSTAL OFFICE
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 19.—(AP)—John T. Clapp, of Beach Grove, Ind., today was elected president of the National League of District Postmasters at the concluding session of the annual convention. He succeeds E. A. Meeks, of Nichols, Ga., who was elected national secretary to succeed Mrs. H. V. Stoner, of Washington, D. C., resigned.

He told of Robinson Crusoe island and some of his own experiences while on the island investigating its mineral possibilities.

Officer Solves Crime.
ALBANY, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Motorcycle Officer Phelps Mallard has gone Shiloh, where he better—he solves crimes before they are discovered.

The other night he arrested a negro on suspicion and found an overcoat and a dress coat in his possession. The next day an Albany man called up and reported the theft of the articles from his market.

"Come and get 'em," said police, and the bewildered citizen did, while Officer Mallard beamed with pride.

Fall Cakes Move.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 19.—Cucumber shipments continue to move from Coolidge, but the cool weather of the past few days is reported to have retarded growth and shipping.

Prices on the whole have been very good this season, and those who planted are reporting good returns from their crop.

Statenville Road.
VALDOSTA, Ga., Oct. 19.—After completing its work on highway No. 21, the engineering force located here for some time has been moved to Statenville, in Echols county.

The crew is in charge of W. E. Everett, engineer, and it has prepared a survey of No. 31 from Valdosta to the Berrien county line and this has been sent to the Atlanta office. The crew is now at work on a survey of route No. 11, from Statenville to the Florida line, and some months will be required to complete this task.

Many Visit Clinic.
QUITMAN, Ga., Oct. 19.—The Chest clinic conducted here by the board of health under state health auspices had an unusually large number of patients, a total of 67, with 44 who were cured. These clinics, which are held periodically, have brought many incipient cases of tuberculosis to light and resulted in successful treatment of many.

KIWANIS URGED TO STUDY ISSUES

Delegates at Columbus Advised To Deal With Government Questions.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Georgia Kiwanians were advised today by Dr. William J. Carrington, of Atlantic City, N. J., international president, to make their meetings fact-finding forums as a means of bringing about greater efficiency in local government.

Speaking before the annual state convention of Georgia Kiwanis Clubs, which opened here yesterday, Dr. Carrington said that "ignorance, ignorance and ignorance were handicaps which caused children to be underprivileged, adding that Kiwanis proposes to strike at those conditions."

Slum Clearance.
"If every mispent tax dollar were applied to slum clearance, public health, public schools, playgrounds and prevention, underprivileged would be stopped at the source," he declared.

Asking the question "what can a service club do to reduce waste and inefficiency in local government," Dr. Carrington said some "turn out the rascals." He added that "public officials are rascals. Bounding companies rate them as honest as any other group."

"Openly discuss daylight accounting methods, overlapping governments and training of public officials," he told the delegates. "These are not political questions in any partisan sense. With that sort of program, the problem of Kiwanis publicity is solved. And through publicity, not for Kiwanis, but for the things for which Kiwanis stands, through that sort of publicity will we mould public opinion."

This afternoon the delegates will discuss the problem of adequate educational facilities, especially those making for character development, was described by the international president as another special Kiwanis objective for this year. Kiwanians were told to "see that a fair share of the tax dollar goes to public schools, for today is the only chance this crop of children will ever have."

During the depression, he reported, Kiwanis membership dropped from 103,000 in 1929 to 76,000 in 1932, but the present membership of 82,188 is increasing at the rate of 1,000 a month.

The 1,873 clubs in the United States and Canada served during the depression, he continued, building friendships, broadening the intellectual horizons of men, creating opportunities for self expression and training civic leaders. In the past four years, he said, upward of 20,000 humanitarian achievements have been completed by Kiwanis Clubs.

Dinner Last Night.
Trustees and club officers dined here last night, followed by an informal dance at the Country Club.

Other addresses on the morning program included welcomes to Columbus by Mayor H. C. Smith and Thurston C. Crawford, president of the local club, and a response by Dave M. Parker, of Atlanta, immediate past district governor. Mark Smith, of Thomaston, district governor, delivered his annual message and other officers made reports.

The afternoon delegates witnessed a military demonstration at Fort Benning and ended the day with a dinner and ball at the post.

PAULDING COUNTY FAIR BREAKS ALL RECORDS
DALLAS, Ga., Oct. 19.—Paulding county fair opened here Thursday and breaks all records both in attendance and in the quality of displays.

Practically every community in the county is sponsoring a booth in addition to the many individual articles on display.

Vernon Women's Four-H Club won first place in community booths and Mrs. W. P. Denton, of Antioch, placed first in some exhibits.

Special attractions are the cotton fashion show, the flower show and cake contest.

The fair will close Saturday night and will mark the closing of another successful year of home demonstration and farm work in Paulding county.

MARIETTA CADET GETS HONOR AT UNIVERSITY
ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Jasper N. Dorsey III, of Marietta, will be cadet colonel of the University of Georgia R. O. T. C. unit for 1934-35. Colonel H. E. Mann, commandant, announced today.

Henry G. Bell, of Halcynodale, will be cadet lieutenant colonel. Benjamin M. Turner, of Cordale, colonel of cavalry, and Hal B. Hatcher, of Macon, lieutenant colonel of infantry.

APPLING LEGISLATOR FOUND DEAD IN BED
BAXLEY, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Dr. P. H. Comas, 74, Appling county representative in the state legislature and a pioneer Baxley citizen, was found dead in his bed here today.

Dr. Comas was widely known in this section as a physician and was prominent in religious, civic and club affairs here. He was a former state senator and a large land owner. His term as representative would have expired in January.

BANK VAULT IS IMMUNE TO ATTACK OF BURGLAR
MITCHELL, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—An apparent attempt by burglars to rifle the bank of Kelley & Son failed today as the vault was found to be immune.

O. L. Kelley, cashier of the bank, was to open the vault today and neither could a safe expert who had been called in to open it immediately.

Judge Rules Husband Must Know of Debts

MAON, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Judge Louis L. Brown, of Bibb superior court, has ruled a husband can't be held liable for a debt contracted by his wife without the husband's knowledge.

A Macon man who bought the accounts of a ready-to-wear store sued a man for a bill owed the store by his wife. The husband claimed he knew nothing of the purchase by his wife when suit was filed.

The man who owned the accounts obtained a judgment in municipal court, but the husband's appeal was sustained by Judge Brown.

INFERTILITY CURE IS CLAIMED FOUND IN HORMONE DROPS
BOSTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The cure of 50 per cent of childlessness among 100 married couples by the easy method of taking daily a few drops of hormone drops was reported to the American College of Surgeons today.

The infertility was not confined to one sex, in this group of 200 persons. It was as likely to be the man as the woman, and responsibility was quite evenly divided. The results were reported by Dr. Allan Winter Rowe, director of research of the Evans Memorial hospital, Boston.

The extracts which ended the childlessness were those of the pituitary gland, the thyroid and ovary. The pituitary lies near the base of the brain and governs the co-operation of the entire series of ductless glands which include not only those of sex but the adrenals, thyroids and parathyroids, or glands which have no apparent direct relation to either sex or fertility.

In some instances the infertility appeared to be due to conditions of lowered vitality affecting the body generally. This was especially true of those who were infertile on account of thyroid gland deficiency.

The lack of sufficient thyroid activity reduced the entire bodily energy and had no direct effect on sex. Yet when thyroid extract brought up the general health level the bar to children disappeared.

SCHOOL CONFERENCE ON TODAY IN MACON
MAON, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The second annual session of the High School-College Conference will be held here tomorrow.

Speakers on the program include E. V. Welch, superintendent of the Adel schools; Dr. Paul Morrow, of the University of Georgia; and L. M. Lester, of the state department of education. Delegates to the conference will see Mercer University play its homecoming game against Furman University.

ROME DAIRYMAN DIES WHEN HIT BY TRUCK

CHURCH BODY SCORES ROOSEVELT ON LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A spokesman for the interdenominational conference of church leaders accused the Roosevelt administration today of "utter failure to keep its pledges that the saloon would not be allowed to return and that dry states would be protected."

Dr. Arthur J. Barton, of Wilmington, N. C., chairman of the social service commission of the Southern Baptist convention, made the accusation at the conclusion of a session of the conference here which he said was attended by representatives of 11 evangelical religious denominations and by leaders of national temperance organizations.

He made public a resolution of the conference urging citizens of Kansas, West Virginia, California, Nebraska, Florida, South Dakota, and Wyoming to maintain state dry laws.

BISHOP MOUNZON RAPS "SINS" OF ADMINISTRATION

LYNCHBURG, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—"Sins" which he said will "never be forgotten or forgiven" were laid today at the White House doorstep in a fiery address by Bishop Edwin D. Mounzon, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

Vigorously assailing the administration's liquor policy, the churchman told the 1924 Virginia Methodist conference that the government had broken its promise to ban the corner saloon.

"The Old Testament tells us that certain kings of Israel made a 'deal to sin,'" he said. "Well, it can be said of the present administration in Washington that it has made church people to sin, and it will never be forgotten or forgiven."

Urging that Protestants join with Catholics and Jews "in signing a pledge to see that the film business is cleaned up," the bishop said that the motion picture business even more so than the liquor business is a tear on the nation's moral fabric.

Long Aid Is Indicted In Tax Evasion Probe

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A. L. Shushan, a close political associate of Senator Huey P. Long, was indicted today by the United States grand jury on a charge of evading income tax.

Rene Visco, federal district attorney, stated that Shushan was at present president of the Orleans levee board, a state body, although some time ago it was reported that he had resigned his position due to ill health. The great $6,000,000 Shushan airport in New Orleans is named after Shushan.

The government's indictment charged that Shushan evaded income tax payments aggregating $33,919.34 for the four years 1929, 1930, 1931 and 1932. The indictment charged that the amount of money on which this sum was due was $390,628.77.

The indictment was one of a series of similar indictments already handed down to the district federal court here in the income tax investigation of the returns made by Long and his high political associates.

Realty Holding Group Seeks Reorganization

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Carl G. Fisher Company, holding concern for corporations in the real estate and hotel business here and at Montauk Point, N. Y., today filed in federal court here a petition for its reorganization.

The petition alleges that company owns assets in excess of $1,130,000, with direct liabilities of $2,960,000, and contingent liabilities under contracts of guaranty of $3,612,740. The company has capital stock of $4,000,000, and surplus of $3,942,532.

South Dakota Baby Wins "Most Beautiful" Title

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Miss Marilyn Yvonne Miller, 15-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller, of Pierre, S. D., has been named as "America's Most Beautiful Baby" in a contest at the World's Fair sponsored by Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Marilyn triumphed over 114,364 other entries, whose pictures were sent in to the judges from every state in the Union, and shortly will be awarded the first prize of $10,000—$3,000 in cash and a $5,000 R. E. Wood College educational policy.

30-Hour Work Week Is Opposed by Swope

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Company, said tonight that a compulsory 30-hour work week with a corresponding increase in wages would defeat its own purpose, maintaining the high standards of American living.

New manufacturing methods and new inventions are the only practical means of decreasing hours and increasing wage rates, Swope told the National Electrical Manufacturers Association convention.

The increased volume of employment attending a rigid reduction in hours would be only temporary, the industrialist said, larger pay rolls would kite selling prices, he theorized, which would reduce consumption and, completing the cycle, throw workmen back into the street.

Profits in industry are not high enough to absorb the added expenses of wage increases, Swope said.

U. S. Team Defeats British Bridge Four

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(Saturday)—(AP)—The American bridge team, led by Ely Culbertson, today retained the Schwab trophy by defeating its English challengers in 300 hands.

The score: United States, 91,305; England, 88,050.

Fighting hard to stave off defeat, the English team reduced the American lead at one stage to 490 points. But two swings, one for 550 points and one for 1,040, in the last three hands gave the Americans victory.

The finish thrilled spectators. Ely Culbertson, captain of the American team, pronounced it one of the most desperately fought bridge matches in recent international competition. He expressed admiration for the English team.

AAA Dairy Control Dealt Blow by Court

DES MOINES, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey ruled today that the secretary of agriculture could not license or regulate the business of a dairy where it was conducted directly within a state.

SEVEN MORE INDICTED FOR LOTTERY OFFENSES

Seven persons were indicted by the Fulton grand jury for lottery offenses Friday as the battle to stamp out the "number" game in Atlanta continued.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin said another indictment is being prepared against an Atlanta man who has been impersonating the operator of a lottery company and collecting the money which his "winners" obtain selling chances at the "bug" under the name of the established company. When the player guesses the correct figure, however, the man does not pay off. Boykin said the winners and the writers had given information for the indictment.

The indictment also said "Pee Wee" Burns, already indicted for lottery offenses and also for assault on two charges of attacking winners he did not pay off, will be brought to trial at an early date.

18 Pct. Acreage Slash Urged for Potatoes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—An 18 per cent cut in the 1935 early Irish potato acreage in southeastern states was declared necessary today if prices are to equal or better cost of production.

This was the contention of the interstate early potato committee, which held a private meeting here. It was announced by A. E. Merck, potato specialist of the department of agriculture.

The committee recommended that North Carolina early growers reduce their 1935 acreage 26 per cent below the 1934 planting; Georgia growers 30 per cent; South Carolina growers 13 per cent; Maryland growers 18 per cent; Norfolk, Va., section growers 13 per cent; eastern shore of Virginia growers 22 per cent, and other Virginia growers 12 per cent. It recommended Florida's acreage remain the same.

Tennessee Board Ends TVA Hearing

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The state railroad and public utilities commission this afternoon took final action on the TVA case involving the proposed purchase of utility properties by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The extended hearing was held on the application of the Tennessee Public Service Company for approval of sale of its holdings at and near Knoxville to the TVA for $2,191,000. The transaction was protested by two T. P. S. preferred stockholders and by a group of 13 Tennessee ice and coal companies.

Instituted last month, the case was given the commission after day-long arguments in which opposing attorneys attacked and defended the sale.

Aimee Faces Tax Lien For $635 Due Since '28

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson was accused of failing to pay her 1928 federal income tax in a lien for $635.62 filed today by John P. Carter, collector of internal revenue.

opinion an hour after they had listened in a crowded courtroom to the pleadings of Defense Attorney James M. Fawcett.

"This evidence I am offering is very important," said Fawcett, seeking to introduce an affidavit of Joseph M. Furcht that Hauptmann was working for him on March 1, 1932, up to a few hours before the abduction.

A temporary stay of extradition had been granted Hauptmann pending the appeal. Attorney-General Winant, obtaining two certified copies of the opinion, rushed to the Bronx.

Meanwhile Fawcett, who appeared dazed as the opinion was read by Presiding Justice Edward R. Finch, said he would not appeal again.

"That would be useless in view of the fact that we have been unable to introduce new evidence," he commented.

His associate, Bernhardt Meisels, appeared more optimistic, telling newspapermen:

"We will face the issue in New Jersey and I believe acquit Hauptmann."

The court's three-page opinion was signed by all five judges. Fawcett said the day complete for Mr. Hauptmann, the appellate hearing followed the action of Supreme Court Justice Ernest Hammer in vacating a writ of habeas corpus and allowing the extradition of Hauptmann.

Important.

"This evidence I am offering is very important," Fawcett said. "It makes the day complete for Mr. Hauptmann. I say there was ample proof to sustain the writ."

"We have proved that his retainer was in this state on the first of March. His best recollection was that he either worked all day on the majestic hotel or spent the day in an employment agency."

"He was in the Bronx on Monday, all night, preceding March 1." Referring to testimony given during the hearing on the writ, Fawcett outlined what he said were Hauptmann's activities on March 1, 1932. He then reviewed the evidence given at the hearing before Supreme Court Justice Ernest E. L. Hammer in the Bronx in support of Hauptmann's alibi.

Chest Funds Open Door of Hope For Family in Squalid Despair

By RALPH MCGILL.

Truth is stranger than fiction. And the terror of truth is more terrifying than all that contained in a library of horror stories.

There was Mandy. Poor, patient Mandy. With terror and a cough in her chest, Mandy had worked there for years and years. Years of washing dishes. Years of looking into the oven.

With the depression there was talk of letting Mandy go. It had got that bad. But somehow they had to keep Mandy. They just had to.

There was a lumpy race, the negro race. Their inclination is toward happiness. But there can be terror too—terror in the hearts of all those who are faithful and work and who, like Mandy, are widowed and with children to feed. Mandy knew what hunger was. She had friends who were hungry.

And then she began to cough. It was a cold at first. It kept on. The mistress of the house was worried. Mandy was sick.

And then one day the mistress called to this home. And he heard the story of the worried mistress and of Mandy, trying to hide her cough and the worry. The thought of losing one's job is a terrifying thought.

The minister recalled that the year before the mistress of the house had assisted in a Community Chest drive in Decatur. And that there was a clinic on Forest avenue.

Mandy went there. They examined Mandy—Mandy with her big eyes big with fright and her heart hurting with fear of what they might find. They X-rayed Mandy. The three children were brought from her home and tested. And none had the dread disease of tuberculosis. A few weeks of treatment and Mandy's cough went away.

The four cards were in the closed-out files of the Atlanta Tuberculosis Association.

Mandy went back to her kitchen. She could smile now and people seeing her could say, "The negro people are a happy people."

But for the Community Chest and its services there would have been four racked, starving forms; four pitiful creatures with no reason to believe that there was in all the world humanity, warmth or kindness.

"I don't know where my money goes in the Community Chest so I don't give."

Part of it went to Mandy. A small part. Because most of the service by physicians is free.

Farley Sees G. O. P. Headed For Still Greater Downfall

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Rival claims—that the New Deal was sinking, and that the republicans had become demoralized—were advanced from the opposing political camps today in an exchange quickened by the approach of the November balloting.

Taking the latest Literary Digest poll as his guiding post, Chairman Fletcher, of the republican national committee, contended it showed public sentiment was running against the New Deal.

In quick reply Chairman Farley, of the democratic national committee, said the November elections would give the administration a victory that would topple the G. O. P. to its lowest level since the War Between the States.

Countering Fletcher's statement that the New Deal was growing into disfavor and leading the nation "down further into the valley of depression," Farley said "utter demoralization" had seized the republicans; that they have "broken up into roving, irresponsible bands, acknowledging no leader."

Fletcher said the recent poll showed "17 states voting a major opposition to President Roosevelt's acts and policies" indicating a change from a previous canvass when 47 states approved these policies "on the whole."

Returning to the capital after two months abroad, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, the democratic leader, also referred to the poll and said his impression was "the democratic majority in the senate will be increased" and that while some house seats will be lost to republicans, others would be captured.

Senator Tom Connally, democrat, Texas, expressed virtually the same opinion on the political situation and when questioned about claims that the government was hampering business, said:

"If the government hadn't got in business when it did, there wouldn't be any business now. What has business done to help out? Business in general has sought to help cure the depression principally by complaining. We've loaned business money for every type of enterprise. What else could we do unless we put business on the dole?"

"A lot of fellows want to bellyache so they talk about lack of confidence," Robinson made known that after a conference with President Roosevelt on Monday, he would decide upon what part he would take in the campaign. He had invitations, he said, to speak in seven or eight states.

"It's manifest," he added, "that the opposition is making the New Deal and its legislative program an issue and the result of the election in November will be a test of its merits in the eyes of the public."

"It's natural that the opposition to the administration should make desperate efforts to discredit the effect of the Roosevelt policies. I do not know what their confidence is but think when the smoke is cleared away they will be disappointed and discouraged."

MELLON BREAKS SILENCE TO DENY PINCHOT CHARGE
HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Over one of the strangest, most involved campaigns in years, the long silent voice of Andrew W. Mellon broke today to meet a challenge by his bitter political enemy, Governor Gifford Pinchot, and overshadow, at least temporarily, the "New Deal" issue in Pennsylvania.

The internationally known banker's first political statement in years threw a "bug of war" campaign into a furor. Mellon denied a charge made by Pinchot last night that Joseph E. Guffy, democratic candidate for United States senator, used Mellon money to up square himself on a federal embezzlement indictment returned in 1921 in connection with a shortage of funds of the alien property custodian's office, for which Guffy handled sales.

NEW DEAL ONLY ISSUE.
ICKES TELLS PENNSYLVANIA
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes tonight carried the weight of the Roosevelt administration into the bitter Pennsylvania political campaign with a declaration that the "New Deal" is the only issue.

The cabinet member said the republican party no longer is the "party of Abraham Lincoln, devoted to the welfare of the average man and woman," but one in which "wealth and special privilege are its chief concern."

Winding up his speech before the Hungary Club, a non-partisan forum, Ickes said:

"To my way of thinking, the New Deal is entitled to a vote of confidence at the coming election. That is the only issue involved."

All Farm School Grads Employed---Chapman

MACON, Ga., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Farming was described today by Paul W. Chapman, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of Georgia, as the "safest occupation in this country so far as permanent security is concerned."

Dean Chapman was speaking at the annual meeting of the Georgia organization of the Future Farmers of America, and said that "not a single graduate of the college of agriculture was out of employment or on the relief rolls today."

The star Georgia planter will be selected at tomorrow's session, at which time 34 awards will be made to Georgia planters who have made outstanding records over a period of years.

20,000 Silk Workers Threatening to Strike

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Twenty thousand silk and rayon dyers and finishers in the Paterson area will strike next Thursday unless, in the meantime, their employers accede to the demands for a closed shop.

At a meeting last night union leaders voted unanimously to carry out their plans for a strike at the expiration of the contract under which the men have worked for the past year.

MAN IS ROBBED OF $27 BY YOUNG BANDIT TRIO

Three armed white youths, each about 25 years of age, robbed L. J. Brewer, of 676 West Peachtree street, of $27 Friday night, Brewer reported to police.

He said he was en route home with the money belonging to the laundry where he is employed when a car containing the three men drew up beside him. All the robbers pointed pistols at him, he said, and forced him to turn over the cash. The bandits escaped. Brewer said the robbery occurred almost directly in front of his home.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A "declaration of independence" flatly repudiating Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller and all his works will be signed tomorrow by 150 opposition churchmen from all parts of the reich gathered here, it was learned tonight.

Action of the laymen and clergyman assembled for the second national convention of the so-called confessional synod founded last May, will bring out into the open the split between the German national Protestant church, headed by Mueller, and its opposition.

The delegates were still deliberating as to the wording of their resolution assailing Mueller, but it was learned they would affirm solemnly that they alone constitute the true German evangelical church.

BRIGHT AIR FUTURE SEEN BY SIKORSKY

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Giant heavier-than-air cruisers capable of carrying 56 passengers and 1,000 pounds of mail and express on non-stop flights in excess of 4,000 miles are now being designed for trans-oceanic service, Igor Sikorsky, famous aircraft manufacturer and designer of multi-motored planes during the World War, told the Howell aviation commission.

The same planes, converted into military bombardment types and carrying 20,000 pounds of bombs each, would be capable of reducing a city the size of New York to a shambles operating from naval aircraft carriers a thousand miles at sea, the witness said.

Vulnerability of the United States from air attack was given equal emphasis by another witness in testimony preceding that of Mr. Sikorsky.

Hawks See Peril.
Frank Hawks, celebrated pilot and former war flyer, told the commission that present equipment is available for a fleet of enemy planes to make a non-stop flight from Alaska to New York and deposit a ton of bombs. They would be unable to make the return flight, however.

"With present available equipment," he declared, "I can fly from Tokyo or Shanghai to New York in 48 hours. If we were to have enemies in either the orient or soviet Russia the same performance can be accomplished. The Japanese would not care if they ever returned or not. There are plenty of young Japanese warriors who would willingly sacrifice their lives for the chance to fly on to New York and destroy our skyscrapers with their bombs. It would not be long before, unfortunately, but more probably poison gas which would wipe out the population of Manhattan and the adjacent sectors."

Watch Alaska.
Stressing the importance of higher speed aircraft for military purposes, Captain Hawks said our air forces "should have their eyes on Alaska and the Aleutian Islands as well as the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines for the protection not only of the west coast but the east coast." He recommended appropriations for additional service flight operations, adding that the United States should have double or triple the amount of aircraft carriers now in use.

The need for governmental co-operation with private aircraft manufacturers in the sale of their products abroad was also emphasized by the noted pilot, who recently returned from China, where he represented one of the larger American manufacturers in the sale of bombers to the Chinese government. Other governments through their diplomatic representatives lend active aid to their manufacturers, which makes for difficult competition, he asserted.

Commission Urged.
Both Sikorsky and Hawks joined with other witnesses heard by the Howell board Friday in urging the creation of a permanent commission to have charge of all government civil flying regulation.

The picture Sikorsky drew of the possibility of New York city being devastated by aerial attack was prompted by questions asked by Clark Howell, Atlanta Constitution publisher, who heads the commission. The famous aircraft designer had previously told of plans now being completed by his company for building the giant air cruisers which, he said, would weigh 110,000 pounds, have a flying range of 4,000 miles at a speed of nearly 200 miles per hour and permit a payload of 55,000 pounds. Designed for trans-oceanic non-stop flights, both dining and sleeping accommodations would be provided for the 56 passengers the flying boat would carry.

Refueled in Air.
Designed for military use the huge planes could be refueled either from the air or from aircraft carriers stationed 1,000 miles from our shores at sea. Each could carry 100 bombs of 200 pounds apiece or a total of 20,000 pounds of bombs. A squadron of 10 such ships could thus deposit 200,000 pounds of bombs on a city like New York with untold destruction, he pointed out. The cost of construction would be between $500,000 and $600,000, it was stated.

Questioned on proposals for building seaplanes for use of heavier than air types of aircraft in transoceanic service, Mr. Sikorsky predicted it would be only a matter of a few years before planes are developed that will be capable of making non-stop flights at altitudes of 18,000 to 20,000 feet across the Atlantic. He said he would prefer to put in trans-oceanic service flying boats with long flying ranges rather than resort to the hazard of landing at seaplanes for refueling.

E. O. McDonnell, president of the National Aviation Corporation, presented a brief to the commission in support of amendments to the Mc-Kellar-Black act limiting the investment operations of holding companies and investment trusts in air mail companies. He also urged the creation of a permanent federal aviation commission to co-ordinate civil aviation functions.

A fourth witness, Alexander Klemm, well-known aeronautical engineer attached to New York University, stressed the need for further government aid in scientific research in aviation development both on the part of official agencies and the universities of the country.

JAIL BREAK HALTED AT POLICE STATION

Efforts of William Allan, 20, Tampa youth held on suspicion in the police station, to saw his way out of the steel-inclosed state cell early Friday morning were thwarted when Turnkey H. D. Henshaw discovered him sawing the last rivet that remained between the prisoner and freedom.

Allan said that he and W. A. Pratt, 19, of a DeKalb avenue address, who was returned Thursday to the Peach county chain gang from which he was alleged to have escaped several months ago, had been sawing away at the rivets on the outside wall of the cell for several days. The back-saw blades which they used, he said, were smuggled into the cell by Pratt, who had them strapped to the soles of his feet when he was arrested.

BANKERS LEAVE TODAY FOR A. B. A. MEETING

A delegation of 30 bankers and their wives will leave Atlanta today to attend the sixtieth annual convention of the American Bankers' Association in Washington, D. C., October 22-25. This gathering promises to be one of the most important in the history of the bankers' association, and will attract the leading financiers from all parts of the United States and Canada.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt will address the convention on October 24. The Atlanta and Georgia delegation will occupy two special cars on the Washington train, while a third car from New Orleans will join the party here. Atlanta bankers who will attend the convention include:

Robert F. Maddox, past president of the American Bankers' Association and chairman of the Atlanta Community Chest; H. Lane Young, vice president and executive manager, and Alva G. Maxwell, vice president, of the Citizens & Southern National Bank; John K. Ottley, president; James D. Robinson, executive vice president, and J. S. Kennedy, vice president, of the First National Bank; Hyburn G. Clay, president, and Ronald Ransom, executive vice president, of the Fulton National Bank; Douglas M. Robertson, assistant vice president of the Trust Company of Georgia; and Haynes McFadden, secretary of the Georgia Bankers' Association.

P. W. Greene, assistant treasurer of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, will accompany the party. Other Georgia bankers, headed by J. Truman Holladay of Columbus, who is president of the Georgia Bankers' Association, are: William Murphy, president of the Citizens & Southern National Bank of Savannah; W. S. Elliott, vice president and cashier of the Bank of Canton; H. K. Park, vice president of the First National Bank of Columbus; John M. Graham, president, and Walter S. Cochran, vice president of the National City Bank of Rome.

State Bank Superintendent Robert Gormley will go to Washington from Baltimore where he is now attending the annual convention of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks. Mrs. M. Mark Robinson, manager of the women's department of the First National Bank of Atlanta, will leave with the Atlanta delegation to attend the annual convention of the Association of Bank Women, which will be held in Washington on the same dates as the A. B. A. meeting.

Chest Adds 6 Firms To '100 Per Centers'

Atlanta firms and organizations whose members and employees have subscribed unanimously to the Community Chest program for 1935 with pledges, and contributions, Friday night totaled 16, after six had been added to the list during the day.

Western Electric Company, on Lee street; Fulton Supply Company and Fireman's Fund Insurance Company were added to the list Friday afternoon. Chest headquarters announced, after the Ford Motor Company, the federal emergency administration of public works, and the Jerome and Cowan insurance office had been reported 100 per cent givers in the morning report.

Others who already have been reported in the 100 per cent givers class are: National recovery administration office, Forrest Avenue school, Beck & Greig Hardware Company, Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, Southern Dairies, Postal Telegraph Company, Fulton National Bank, Atlanta Child's Home, Wolford Oil Company, and J. H. Hillsman Company.

EX-SENATOR HEFLIN TO SPEAK TONIGHT AS PEACE CHAMPION

Former Senator Thomas J. Heflin, of Lafayette, Ala., recognized as a gifted story teller and eloquent speaker, will open his national lecture tour at 8 o'clock tonight at the Wesley Memorial church auditorium.

Senator Heflin, long an advocate of peace, will speak on the question, "Shall we remain silent while international armaments and gunmakers involve us in another war?" He will be introduced by John Gore, assistant attorney general.

A veteran of more than 30 years' service in congress and the United States senate, Senator Heflin, storm center of many hot fights in the upper and lower houses, arrived in Atlanta Friday. He paid his respects to Governor Talma and after the short conference with the state's chief executive reported that "we had an interesting chat."

MRS. W. W. WALLIS TO BE BURIED TODAY
Funeral services for Mrs. W. W. Wallis, 77, pioneer resident of East Point, who died Thursday at the residence, 107 Washington road, will be held at 11 o'clock this morning from Mount Olive Baptist church with the Rev. Y. A. Brown and the Rev. Jack Waddell officiating. Burial will be in the churchyard with A. C. Hemperley & Sons in charge.

Mrs. Wallis was a member of a family prominently identified with the development of the community, her father, the late John Lee, having settled the Washington road section in 1850. He died while serving in the army of the Confederacy in the War Between the States.

DRUID HILLS CHURCH WILL HEAR CANDLE

Bishop Warren A. Candler will open a week of services beginning Sunday at the Druid Hills Methodist church in celebration of its twenty-fifth anniversary. Bishop Candler will preach on "Southern Methodism Since 1844" at the morning service, and Dr. Fitzhugh N. Parker, dean of the theological school of Emory University, will preach at the night service on "American Methodism Since 1784."

Services will be held at 7:30 o'clock each night of next week, with the exception of Saturday. The week of celebration will end Sunday night, October 29. The present pastor of the church is Dr. John Brandon Peters.

NEGRO BOY IS KILLED IN THREE-WAY CRASH

Ferman Simmons, 9, Running in Street, Crushed Under Overturned Auto.

Three automobiles were damaged and a small negro boy, a pedestrian, was killed in a freak automobile crash in the 800 block of DeKalb avenue at about 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Ferman Simmons, 9-year-old negro boy, of Millstead, was crushed beneath an overturned car. Taken to Grady hospital, he died shortly after 6 o'clock.

Death of the boy brings the total number of fatalities within the city limits since January 1 to 45, and the total for the month of October to five.

According to police reports, a car being driven by Mrs. T. M. Owen, of 974 Greenwood avenue, toward Decatur, swerved sharply to the left to avoid striking the little negro, who was running across the street. The machine struck a car being driven toward Atlanta by an unidentified negro.

The negro's machine turned over twice and crushed the Simmons boy beneath it.

Mrs. Owen's car then careened across to the opposite side of the street and struck a parked car, resulting in small damage. The negro driver of the car which killed the boy fled from his machine and boarded a moving passenger train which was coming toward Atlanta on tracks near the highway, witnesses told police.

Police who investigated Friday night made no case against Mrs. Owen, but they were seeking the negro who ran from the scene of the accident.

Judge To Decide Fees In Hurt Building Case

Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy, of Fulton superior court, Friday took under advisement the matter of awarding fees to receivers for the Hurt building and to the several attorneys who have represented the parties in the litigation which has centered about the building for the last two years and which was practically terminated by a recent supreme court decision.

Ronald Ransom and Walter C. Hendrix, as receivers; Atlanta Trust Company, trustee; for the Hurt building; Marion Smith, attorney for the receivers; Alston, Alston, Foster & Moise and Crenshaw & Hansell, are all entitled to fees.

Although the building has not yet been advertised for sale, prospective bidders are obtaining information with a view to making bids for the former sales which can take place without further obstacle under the recent ruling of the supreme court. Judge Pomeroy issued an order Friday authorizing the receivers to furnish a statement of operating expenses to the law firm of Little, Powell, Reid & Goldstein, attorneys for a prospective bidder.

Judge Pomeroy also is expected to decide soon the matter of reinstatement of about $500,000 now on hand with the receivers and which is invested in clearing house certificates.

MRS. BERTHA F. WATERS PASSES AT AGE OF 75

Mrs. Bertha Fox Waters, of Philadelphia, Rumson, N. J., died early this week at her home on 155 East Seventy-second street. She was 75 years old and had suffered a heart attack. Surviving her are three daughters, Mrs. Ellen de St. Marc, of Aix-en-Provence, France; Mrs. Ruth Pignatelli, of San Diego, Cal.; and Mrs. Benjamin K. Galt, of Rumson, formerly of Atlanta; a son, J. Berens Waters, of Rumson, and a brother, Caleb F. Fox, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Waters was the wife of the late G. Jason Waters, Philadelphia banker, who was fatally injured 10 years ago in a riding accident. She was the daughter of the late George S. Fox, of Philadelphia, member of an old banking family of that city. Her husband's family was connected with the Riddle family.

Mrs. Pignatelli, former wife of Prince Ludovico Pignatelli, who is distantly related to the former Spanish royal house, arrived from the west by plane for the services.

In Georgia's FIELDS and STREAMS

BIRDS OF PREY.

We have talked about long-legged wading birds and their adaptations, we have mentioned the loon as a typical diving bird, with his webbed feet; we have spoken almost too briefly of the ducks, which are the third aquatic bird group we shall consider. Now we are changing the locale of our series for a while to consider some of the land birds.

Consider the hawks and how they live. These birds of prey are to be seen all over Georgia—some 10 species of hawks, eagles and falcons—at any time of the year. They vary somewhat in habits, especially in food habits; but they have certain characteristics in common. See the hawk, for example. Notice that it is hooked and beautifully adapted to tearing flesh. Now examine the feet. You will observe that they are equipped with long, curved, sharp and very dangerous looking talons. Not only that, but those which have to live on slippery prey, such as fish in the case of the osprey, have the toe-pads covered with strong, pointed tubercles. Thus a grasping mechanism of a highly-efficient type is their own particular development, which in combination with the curved beak, make a meat diet easy to secure and to eat.

In general, our hawks are harmless birds. When I say harmless in this connection, I just mean they do little, if any, damage to our economic well-being. There are two species, for example, which are notorious as hen-hawks. Bear in mind, please, that the term hen-hawk does not refer to any species, but is a sort of summum genus, to adopt the logician's terminology, including whatever species do take an occasional fowl. The two species I just mentioned are the Cooper's and the sharp-shinned hawks. These are definitely detrimental to quail, for instance, but there is some doubt in my mind as to whether there is not a credit side of this ledger, in which we should enter another enemy of the quail which forms part of the food of these hawks. I refer to the cotton rats.

The other hawks are definitely mousers. The favorite food of most of them, in fact, consists of the small, native rats and mice. Earle Greene says the red-tailed hawk has gone up in his esteem since he observed it killing and eating snakes. That information alone is sufficient to make me take the opposite stand. Regardless of personal prejudice, however, I must confess to a feeling of friendship for all hawks. Heaven knows, they are an unjustly persecuted group and while I cannot defend two of them, I am for absolute protection for all others.

FIRST STEPS TAKEN FOR NEW SCENIC ROAD

Preliminary steps have been taken by the state highway board for the building of a scenic highway from Waycross south to the Florida line, to open the wonders of the famed Okefenokee swamp to motorists.

Chairman W. E. Wilburn, of the state highway board, said Friday the board had authorized a survey of the route, and that the survey is expected to begin "in the near future."

The board agreed to co-operate with the United States bureau of public roads if and when the bureau makes available special funds for the building of the road.

In its resolution, the board said it would make the original survey of the proposed highway, which would be about 60 miles long, and estimate the cost of its construction.

If the federal government should provide a special fund for the building of the road, the state highway department would agree to take it into the state road system and maintain it after it is constructed with federal funds. The resolution made it clear that a special appropriation from the federal government for construction of the route would have to be made.

That regular federal aid funds apportioned to the several states would not be used.

OFFICERS TO GREET RESERVE PRESENT
Colonel Frank E. Lowe, of Portland, Maine, national president of the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States army, will arrive in Atlanta at 8:30 o'clock this morning en route to Miami to attend the American Legion convention. He will be met by a committee composed of Adjutant General Lindley Camp, Major Joseph R. Cooke, Colonel Alexander G. Conoler, Colonel Fenwick McWhorter and other prominent military men.

A guard of honor and military band will escort Colonel Lowe and party to the Biltmore hotel.

Colonel Lowe will be guest of honor at a luncheon at the Atlanta Athletic Club at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The luncheon is sponsored by the fifth district chapter, R. O. A. A number of notable members, including Governor Eugene Talmadge, have been invited to attend.

SUMMERS AND RILEY ARE INDICTED AGAIN

Additional robbery charges against Hoyt Summers and Robert Riley, convicted in the case of Max Spohorn, Iowa salesman, were contained in indictments returned Friday by Fulton county grand jury. It was said at the office of Solicitor-General John A. Boykin that the cases against Summers will be placed on trial at an early date.

Riley, who was given the death sentence for his part of the ride-and-rob slaying, was named jointly with Summers in one bill charging the robbery of V. A. Lambert, of 55 Robertson avenue, who lost an automobile and $15 in cash in the holdup of which the pair are accused.

Summers, who got a life sentence, is named in another bill charging robbery of J. G. Smith. Both the convicted slayers are charged with robbing A. R. Lumus, a taxicab driver, of $2.05.

118 ATLANTA DEALERS STOP SALE OF BEER

A total of 118 Atlanta beer dealers have failed to renew licenses for the fourth quarter and have served notice on J. Henson Tatum, city clerk, that they have discontinued sales of the beverage, Tatum said Friday.

Only 234 have bought the $25 quarterly licenses thus far this quarter and half a dozen more the $12.50 quarterly license. These figures compare with more than 400 who had licenses last quarter.

SONG LEADERS HOLD MASS MEETING SUNDAY

A mass meeting of Sunday school song leaders of all denominations will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Wesley Memorial church. The purpose of this meeting, according to Dr. Stuart R. The lecturers will be under the auspices of the local branch of the national association of domestic employers of cooks, waiters and maids.

GOLD BLOC MEETING OPENS IN BRUSSELS

BRUSSELS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A French plan, aiming to increase exports and deflate export prices among the seven nations represented was submitted late today to the gold bloc conference which opened this afternoon.

The nations represented, all basing their currency on the gold standard, are Belgium, France, Holland, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Italy and Poland, the last named being admitted to the conference at the last minute after she had insisted on being represented. Germany was not represented but had an envoy here to keep in touch with the parity.

The French initiative came as a surprise to some of the other delegations, which had held that the French policy of tariff protection was the main obstacle to efforts to improve the strained economic conditions among the gold nations.

One of the main difficulties facing schemes for preferential treatment among the gold bloc nations is the fact that they tend to conflict with British rights, since all of them have "most-favored-nation" treaties with Great Britain.

It was suggested that if an accord is reached in the gold bloc that Great Britain and other nations should be invited to participate and it was authoritatively stated that this would not involve the repeal of Great Britain or those other nations to the gold standard.

Henri Jaspard, minister of finance, who presided over the meeting, presented the delegates to King Leopold today.

NORTHEAST SECTION PLANS HOUSING DRIVE

Organization of the district surrounding Piedmont park, for the Atlanta Better Housing campaign, will be completed at 7:30 o'clock Monday night, when citizens of that section meet at the Piedmont Park Golf Clubhouse, corner of Boulevard and Tenth street.

The principal speaker will be Councilman Joseph E. Berman, who will explain the federal housing act, and the benefits to be derived by Atlanta from housing the better housing program.

John A. White, also a member of city council, is major in charge of Piedmont park section, and will preside over the meeting.

ED A. GILLIAM SEEKING FUNDS FOR AUDITORIUM

Ed A. Gilliam, chairman of council's finance committee and successful in negotiating to obtain PWA funds for construction of a new police station, Friday was in Washington attempting to procure commitments from PWA for $1,500,000 with which to build a new city auditorium.

Gilliam also was one of the principals in the drive of the city to obtain CWA aid on the metropolitan sewer system, and Mayor Key pressed hope Friday that he will be successful in the new venture.

BOYS' STORE—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

YPSILANTI, Mich., Oct. 19.—Our Georgia Tech Jackets arrived in Ypsilanti this morning for late breakfast and had all the lovely young ladies who were a-hauling in the bacon and eggs a-giggling over the southern accent which the boys seem to have.

In the afternoon they went out to Ann Arbor by bus, a distance of eight full miles, eastern standard time, and had themselves a practice in the Michigan stadium, where on the morrow they engage the Michigan Wolverines in the first intersectional game between the two elevens.

I have always wondered how a town named Ypsilanti happened to be named Ypsilanti, and so I asked. And this, I am sure, will bring a blush of pride to the face of Mr. George Hanjaras, the well-known purveyor of food to The Constitution people from his open-all-night restaurant just across the street from The Constitution.

The city of Ypsilanti was named for General Demetrius Ypsilanti, who was a Greek general in the old revolution of Greece, the one which Lord Byron wrote about in that poem which begins "With the Turk within his guarded tent dreaming of the hour when Greece, her knee in suppliance bent, would tremble at his power."

There is a monument to the old gentleman in the town square, and this pleased me no end. I wished to drink a toast in crassi to a Greek, but there are no Greek restaurants in Ypsilanti—which seems to me to be a grievous mistake. There are no Greeks to drink toasts to the marble statue of General Ypsilanti.

MR. CANNON IS REBUKED.

Mr. Jack Cannon, the line coach, arrived in Ypsilanti suffering from a rebuke administered in Kentucky just before getting into Michigan.

There are numerous small towns and the Royal Palm, on which the Georgia Tech team traveled, stopped at a few of them.

At one of them Mr. Cannon, a genial soul, sought to have some fun with a native who was down at the station to meet the train, the same being one of the daily chores of anyone living in a small town.

"Do you live here?" asked Mr. Cannon.

"I do," said the native.

"Then why don't you move?" asked Mr. Cannon.

"I will," said the native, "if any more so-and-sos like you come through here."

And so we called it off and began to read our books again. But the chewing gum was on Mr. Cannon. I mean the purchase thereof.

THE CROWD AT THE GAME.

The crowd at the game tomorrow is estimated at about 15,000 or 20,000 people, and I wish to let you know that it will require field glasses to see this crowd in the Michigan stadium.

The Michigan stadium seats 90,000 people and last year took care of a crowd of 95,000, all on seats. They put in some extra ones.

There is this to be said for the middle west:

They have quit getting hysterical about their football. There is no loud yelp here about getting rid of Harry Kipke because he has dropped a couple of games.

The south is getting that way, although at that there are still traces of football hysteria in the south in some sections. The west coast is the worst section, just as it was the worst in overemphasis. The old pendulum is swinging the other way. The south is getting well.

Some day we will be civilized enough to regard our game of football as a game and treat it as such. There will be none of this ridiculous heartbreak over losses and none of the ridiculous hysteria over victories. I ask you, doesn't the old-fashioned shirt-tail parade seem silly? Yet it used to be part and parcel of the football situation.

The next step is to get rid of high school coaches who start kids out on long schedules, encourage them in a professional attitude and send them to college in that sort of mind.

Dear me, where have I strayed? Oh, yes, from Ypsilanti.

DETROIT'S BASEBALL.

To make an honest confession, this is being written high up in a tower in Detroit in the office of Mr. Dick Hawkins, who now operates an advertising agency.

There seems to be no crepe hung on the buildings in Detroit because of the loss of the World Series. On the contrary, there seems to be a sensible reaction. The Detroit ball club gave Mickey Cochrane a bonus of $10,000, despite the fact his team lost. The big-hearted Cardinal system was about to fire Frankie Frisch, according to popular report. He won the series, so they permitted him to keep his job. To date there has been no mention of bonus.

The Detroit fans have analyzed it in this manner: They feel that Cochrane had a team which was just about 40 per cent as good as the Cardinal team and he managed to carry it seven games and might have won on Monday before the Tuesday finale had it not been for an adverse decision on a play at third.

BACK TO FOOTBALL.

Michigan will be the favorite to defeat Georgia Tech tomorrow, despite the fact I have already selected Tech to win.

Mr. William Alexander, the Tech coach, does not concur. He points out that Michigan has five veterans in the line and some backfield men of experience. "All they need to do is get co-ordinated," he said, "and Michigan will come back with some of her greatness of last fall. With two of our halfbacks on the injured list, I do not see how we can be as good as we might."

Nevertheless, I like the Jackets. Not too heavily, but I like them. They will be rather tough to beat in November. I am basing this assumption on the fact they always have been tough to beat late in the season.

The Willis Ward case has fizzled out and will remain that way unless some radical organization seeks to make capital of it tomorrow. Ward is a very fine negro athlete, reported to be a fine fellow, who runs on the track team, makes good grades and conducts himself as a man should. He feels no animosity toward the Tech team and does not want to play in the Tech game. There is no acrimony at all.

Yet some of the radical organizations, charged by the Michigan Daily with trying to make publicity for themselves, and not being interested in Ward, are trying to do something about it. Ward will not play. He doesn't want to.

THIS TIME BUSINESS.

The game here tomorrow will begin at 1 o'clock, Atlanta time, unless I have been misinformed. The situation is rather terrible.

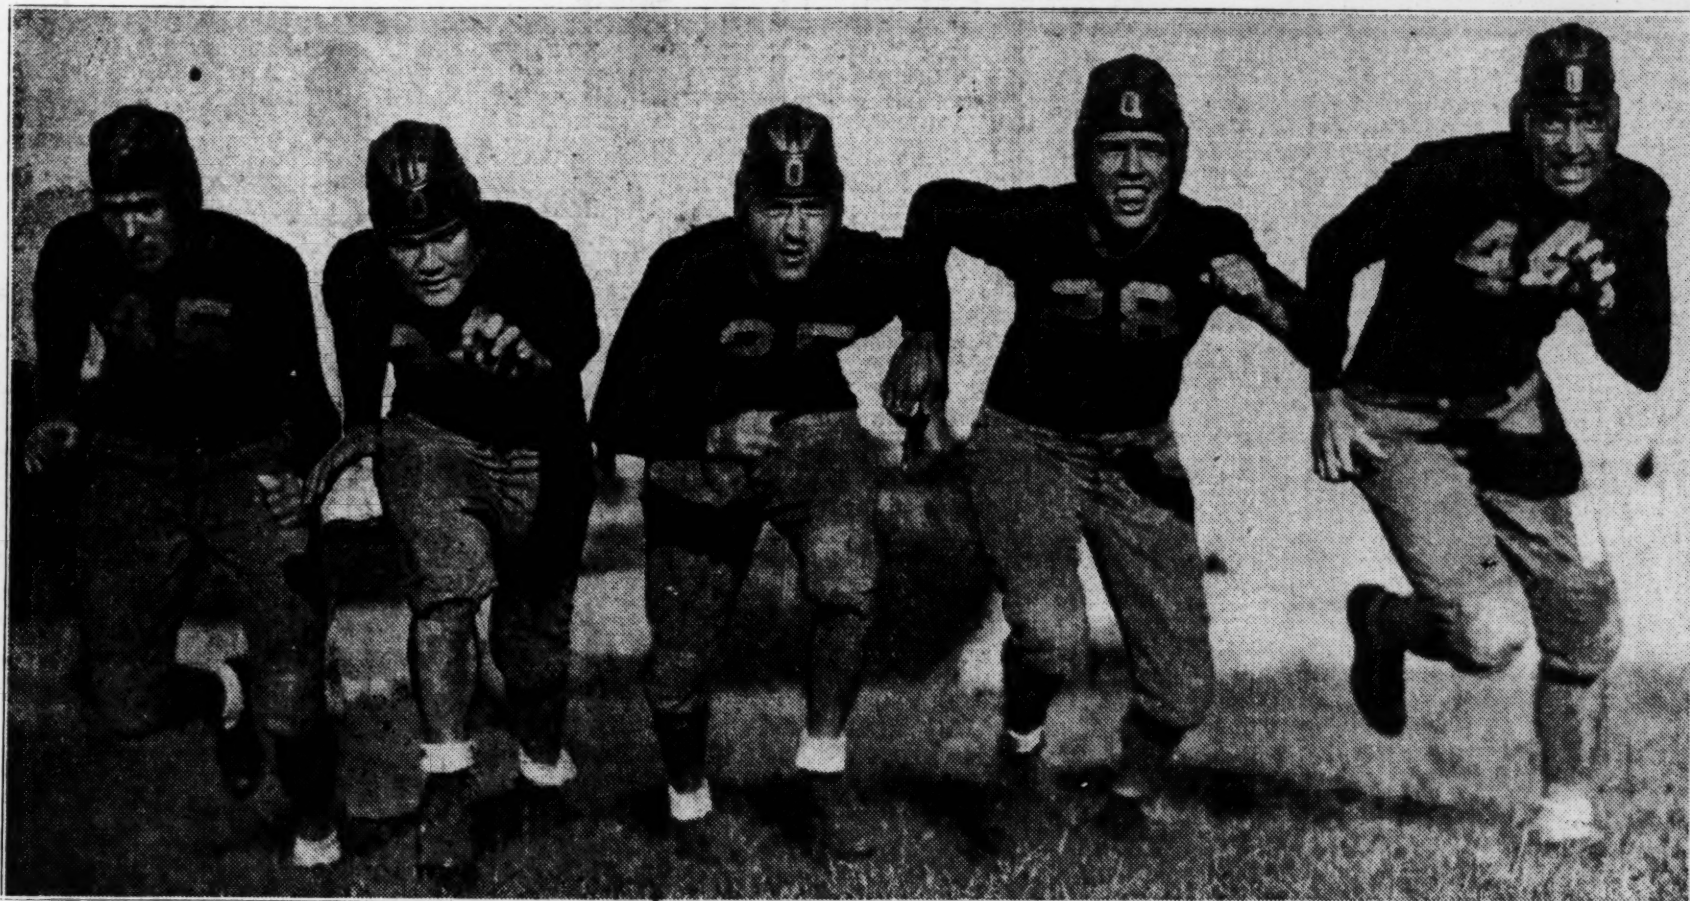

The trains in Ann Arbor run on central standard time, but Ann Arbor goes along on eastern time without any attention to the trains.

So that means 1 o'clock for the starting time. The game

EN ROUTE TO NEW ORLEANS WITH GEORGIA FOOTBALL TEAM, Oct. 19.—Whether the boys who accept the wagers will pay off or rake in the greenbacks on the Green Wave is measured in the ratio of something like 2 to 1 on the game between Tulane and the University of Georgia tomorrow at the Tulane stadium.

In other words the take-a-chance gamblers are willing to give the partisans of the Red and Black Bulldogs from the old hills of Georgia one touchdown and take their money.

They are going on the presumption that a great offensive machine, such as Tulane's, will outfoot the Bulldogs by such a margin and maybe a larger one. With Cy Grant, the Georgia running and kicking ace, out of the melee, the Bulldogs will be weakened. "Little Monk" Simons, who weighs a mere 195 pounds, by the way, should out-kick the Georgia kicker and the veteran Tulane line holds a decided edge in the matter of Georgia's rather erratic forwards.

CY GRANT OUT.

Of course, all this remains to be proved in the Tulane stadium tomorrow and not in the advance sheets. But the odds favor the Georgia team. Harry Mehre, the Georgia coach, is severely handicapped by some half a dozen injured players, including three who won't play, and the fact that Johnny Bond, the Bulldogs' best punter, now that Cy Grant is out, is not exactly what one would term "in the pink."

Bond, who will start at left halfback, also shares the passing burden with Al Minot, the other halfback, and this makes him a very important figure in the Georgia attack. But John Bond, the Bulldogs' best punter, had not intended using at all this season, for the job of relieving John Bond in case the latter cannot hit his shots with the receivers.

Tulane, which is just about invincible to the other forms of attack, according to press dispatches from New Orleans, is said to have shown symptoms of improvement, and the Green Wave began to play. In other words, Tulane is slightly susceptible to a strong passing game and if John Bond, Al Minot, and Al Minot and another spare hand or so can rattle them with enough accuracy, Georgia's scoring chances will be greatly enhanced.

AERIAL GAME.

Georgia's chief chances to make it interesting for the Tulane, therefore depends largely in what it does through the air lanes and not with the pedal extremities of its backfield men.

The fact that Tulane is in good physical shape and that Georgia obviously is not, tilted the scales of pre-game opinion in favor of the Greenies. And not least to be considered is the fact that the Bulldogs could not score in four downs from the North Carolina one-yard line, nor any other line, also had something to do with establishing Tulane as a favorite.

But Georgia, in the law of psychology means anything, should play a greatly improved game against the Athens camp is Glenn Johnson, the nifty lad from Savannah, who has been something of a sensation in Georgia's early games. There is no sign Johnson being a proverbial flash in the pan. If anything, he has improved with varsity experience. If he and Buck Chapman can get the blocking tomorrow and shake the Wave a few wrinkles with a red and black line, the Bulldogs' running game will carry a greater threat and will not have to depend so heavily upon going places through the aerial route.

PLENTY OF BACKS. Tulane, on the other hand, has Georgia, not only outmanned in the number of capable and experienced backs, but greatly outnumbered. There are exactly 16 backfield men at the command of Coaches Ted Cox and

Jackets To Start Strongest Lineup

Coach Alex Plans Early Attack in Hope of Getting Jump on Big Michigan Team.

By Ralph McGill.

YPSILANTI, Mich., Oct. 19.—Georgia Tech's Jackets completed their work for the Michigan game at Ann Arbor tomorrow with a lively workout in the Michigan stadium this afternoon.

When it was done Coach Alexander announced he would start the same lineup which faced Duke. This means that Jerry Perkerson and Sundial Martin will be at the halfbacks with Jack Phillips at fullback and Shorty Roberts at quarter.

The Jackets are hoping to score first. And let me say, now that it can do no harm, that Tech has a new offense for this game. The past game and the running game have been changed a bit and the change will improve, I am sure, the pass game. It may also augment the running attack but that remains to be seen.

Tech hopes to score first to have some margin to go along on when the superior Michigan weight begins to tell. The Michigan line weighs 220 pounds from tackle to tackle and that is weight. It can't be brushed off with a feather duster.

An early touchdown would mean a great deal. Tech has been going into each game, especially the Vanderbilt and Duke games, with the defense stressed. This time they are going in there to try and advance the ball. With that 220 pounds per man in front of them the medium between earth and sky appears the most likely one in which a score can be made. Sundial Martin, who is hurt and not in the best of health, can be used but for about 10 or 15 minutes, according to doctor's orders. For that reason he will start.

LONG PASS GAME. The Michigan pass game is exactly like that of Duke and Vanderbilt. That is to say it is a long pass game and not a short one.

Michigan will also outkick Tech if John Rogeezi is in form. He usually kicks the ball from one end of the field to the other when he is right. Tech will have Katz at left end and Hoot Gibson at right end. Norris Dean, who by the way, has done a good job at tackle, will be at right tackle with Clyde Williams at left. The two Texas boys, John and Dave Wilcox, will be at the guards with either Cyrus Lyons or Charlie Preston at center.

HAWKINS AT TRAIN. The Tech team was met at Ypsilanti this morning by Dick Hawkins, former sports editor of The Constitution, and by Franklin Reck, assistant managing editor of the American Boy Magazine. Reck accompanied the Georgia Tech team to the coast in 1928 when Tech defeated California for the national title.

The Jackets are stopping here, eight miles from Ann Arbor, in order to keep away from the curious. The Willis Ward case caused some radical organizations to protest against Tech. Ward is a negro athlete and a very fine one. He asked not to play, showing no animosity at all, saying he thought it the sensible thing to do in view of the custom. Michigan authorities say he will not be used. The rep of the Michigan authorities to the communists protesting is, "The head coach selects the Michigan team." Ward and his coach, Harry Kipke, are in complete accord.

1 O'CLOCK OUR TIME. Coach Alexander received several telegrams of protest from communist organizations who seemed more interested in getting their names in the paper than anything else.

The game begins at 1 o'clock Atlanta time.

Michigan is a slight favorite but Tech is given a chance in this game which finds both teams with two defeats already registered against them.

The weather is crisp and perfect for football.

Monroe Holds Tekhi To Tie In Night Game

By Roy White.

A fighting Monroe Aggie eleven played its best game of the year and battled Tech High to a scoreless tie Friday night at Ponce de Leon park before a crowd of some 5,000 spectators. It was the second scoreless tie for the Smithies, who fought Miami High on even terms recently.

Tech High's vast array of backfield stars were checked at almost every turn and so well was Monroe's line play that the Smithies never really threatened to score and were rarely ever in the Aggie's territory.

Red Barron's team, remembering losses to Boys' High and G. M. A., played inspired football and staged a drive late in the game that put the ball on Tech High's 7-yard line before being checked.

Buck Hightower intercepted a Smithie pass on Tech High's 27-yard line to open the attack. Clayton, playing for the first time since the victory over the Aggies, high-spiritedly rammed the line for 2 yards and then took a pass from Black for a 16-yard gain and it was the Aggie's ball on the 10-yard line. Two passes were batted down and Monroe lost 5 yards for excess time out. An attempted pass was rushed and Tech High took the ball on downs, on its own 7-yard line.

Tech High was rushed on an attempted pass and Captain Reddick of Monroe, intercepted it on the 10-yard line as the game ended. Monroe almost held Tech High back of the goal for a safety and the ball was thrown out in desperation.

Jack Newlands duplicated his great punting of the Miami game. He averaged 42 yards on his kicks and he twice punted more than 60 yards. It was his great kicking that kept the Smithies out of danger a majority of the game.

Except for Newlands' kicking, there was nothing outstanding on the Tech High side. The Smithies gained eight first downs against three for Monroe, but never once really threatened to score.

The entire Smithie line played a great game and matched play for play with that of Monroe. Barron's team showed a decided improvement over past games and every player deserves praise for his work Friday night.

Scout Has Never Seen Tide Lose

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 19.—Paul Burnum, who molds future Alabama Crimson Tides through his coaching of freshmen, passed through Birmingham today a very unhappy man.

Burnum was not unhappy over football outlook, but the Alabama-Tennessee "non-lock."

In these seven years of the present Alabama-Tennessee series, Burnum has never seen the game—he is always scouting. This year Burnum had hopes—great hopes and a good idea. He has never seen Alabama beaten.

"If I stay here and see the game we will be able to win," Burnum was springing his idea on Frank Thomas, head football coach.

"Well, we'd better not break your record," replied Thomas. "So Burnum was riding trains today, headed for Chapel Hill, N. C., to see how Chet Wynne's Kentucky model operates—a very unhappy man."

Seven Games Hold Spotlight in South

Three Conference Battles and Four Intersectional Tilts Feature Today's Program.

By Kenneth Gregory.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Three Southeastern conference battles, headed by the colorful meeting of Tennessee and Alabama at Birmingham, and four intersectional duels involving Dixie gridlers, headline an attractive football program for this afternoon.

Alabama and Tennessee, primed and ready to turn loose all the fury of their respective attacks, go into their skirmish with an undefeated and untied record thus far and their championship hopes may hinge on the outcome. The Crimson Tide conquered the Volunteers, 12 to 6, a year ago and appear a little stronger again, but the Knoxville squad packs plenty of punch.

Also boasting perfect records from the first month of combat, Vanderbilt and Tulane encounter formidable conference opponents, the Commodores clashing with Auburn, at Nashville, and the Green Wave taking on Georgia, at New Orleans. The Bulldogs whipped Tulane, 26 to 13, last fall.

Vanderbilt, fortified with a versatile offensive and the heaviest line in the south, is selected over the Plainsmen, and Tulane's great team is favored to emerge the victor in the tussle with the Bulldogs, unless Georgia shows a reversal of form following its defeat a week ago at the hands of North Carolina.

The intersectional games bring together Sewanee and Army, at West Point; Georgia Tech and Michigan, at Ann Arbor; Louisiana State and Arkansas, at Shreveport, and Centenary and Texas University, at Austin.

Inter-college strife with the Southern conference continues as North Carolina State and Wake Forest, at Raleigh, and Mississippi State and Mississippi, at Hattiesburg.

In other games, Mississippi enters Howard College, at Oxford, and Mississippi State takes on Southwest, at Memphis.

The championship race in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association warms up with seven games appearing on the slate. Furman and Mercer clash at Macon; Erskine and Wofford play at Spartanburg; Murray and Tennessee Tech meet at Murray, Ky.; Transylvania engages West Kentucky at Bowling Green; Union College takes on Morehead at Morehead; East Kentucky faces Georgetown at Georgetown, and Mississippi Teachers entertain Southwest (La.) at Hattiesburg.

Aside from the fray involving S. I. A. A. competition, Oglethorpe entertains Rollins at Atlanta; Middle Tennessee and Cumberland play at Lebanon, Tenn.; Wake Forest and Presbyterian clash at Wake Forest, and Roanoke faces Emory and Henry in a night game at Emory, Va.

LINE HOLDS. Not only did Russell play a great offensive game but Coach Bowen's line held Newman for four successive downs on the 4-yard line, after the visitors had completed a long pass.

Russell gained 13 first downs, nine of which came in the first half and held Newman to three, and two of those came in the closing minutes of play when a 10-yard run, after Russell had recovered a Newman fumble, Cassell was given some excellent interference on his short run.

Oglethorpe's football miners will dig for pay dirt against Rollins College at Fonce de Leon park at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It is the fifth game on the schedule and Oglethorpe is seeking its fourth victory.

Visiting firemen, the Legionnaires, will be admitted for 40 cents. All others will pass the turnstiles for $1. It being the only football game of the day in this section, all Fonce de Leon should see a real football crowd. Last week Oglethorpe walloped an old foe, Chattahoochee, 18 to 0, and thereby became the only state team to win on that day.

The Petrels, under the first alumni coaches in history, John Patrick and Harry Wren, are playing the best football since 1926. Hence they are the favorites.

Rollins is a new team on the schedule but has made a good record so far. The Florida Tars held the University of Florida Gators to a 13-to-2 decision and then shellacked Newberry, 18 to 6.

The faculty athletic committee at Rollins declared four players, two backs and two linemen, ineligible earlier in the week, but Coach Jack McDowell, former North Carolina State star, has plugged the gaps with capable reserves, it is reported.

A Georgia boy, Carl (Goose) Kettles, of Dalton, will start at center for Rollins today. George Miller, a stocky halfback, and Dave Schrage, a fast halfback who also is president of the student association, are leading offensive threats.

Socrates Chakales, who is reputed to be a worthy namesake of the old Greek philosopher, is the chief offensive threat of the invaders. Chakales is the quarterback and passer. He flings them with accuracy, according to his work in the Florida and Newberry games.

A THREAT.

It was reported when the four Rollins players were ruled ineligible that will be half over before southern games get started.

AN ALARMING NOTE.

There is one alarming note. The papers report that Michigan looked worse than ever in practice for the Tech game. That is bad news. Those sort of things work in reverse.

This Tech team is the quietest one I have ever traveled with in more than a decade of traveling with football teams. It expects to play a great game tomorrow. They like this fellow Alexander and they give him all they have.

The fact remains, however, that Coach Alexander has not a single halfback who is a natural athlete and able to play a well-rounded football game. And this is not to be interpreted as criticism of the boys. They are great boys. But one either has it or not. This explains why Tech isn't as effective as expected. The backs aren't what they were thought to be.

Cuscaden Is Winner Of Second Day's Shoot

Fall Festival Event Sees Amazing Scores Registered at Capitol Club.

By Jack Troy.

When the smoke had cleared away, as they say, at the Capitol Gun Club yesterday some of the most amazing trapshooting in southern annals had been accomplished and Arthur Cuscaden, the Jolly Roger boy from Tampa, had dusted off Atlanta's leading squat skeet shooters.

There were 3,860 singles targets thrown yesterday. AND ONLY 119 got away. Which means that the assembled field busted the flying clays at a percentage rate of 96.84. Which is a very high percentage rate, indeed, in the trapshooting profession.

The honors for consistency went to squad two. Squad two, including Arthur Cuscaden, 197; Charles Tway, 195; John Kries, Knoxville, 190; T. K. Lee, Birmingham, 197; and E. E. Bishop, Bradenton, 196, dropped ONLY 19 targets of the 1,000 that went spinning away against the blue background.

FIVE 98'S.

Squad three came in with another amazing performance at the end of the first 100 targets of the singles championship. All five shooters broke 98. They included H. N. Alford, H. E. Giles, Chargin Falls, Ohio; Ike Andrews, Spartanburg; Ferd Kahler, of New Albany, Ind.; and Ralph Jenkins, of Orleans, Ind.

100 STRAIGHT.

Paul Earle broke the first 100 targets straight. Then he dropped the very first "bird" of the second half. Earle then showed the boys what kind of shooting stock he represents by going ahead and breaking the next 90.

Joe Chilton and Ralph Jenkins each rapped out 198x200 in the singles event. T. K. Lee and Arthur Cuscaden topped the pros, each with 197.

TWAY WINS DOUBLES.

Jack Tway, Georgia state singles champion, won the fall festival doubles championship. Jack broke 83, John Kries, the roaring governor, was runner-up with 91. T. K. Lee topped the pros with 90.

Other doubles scores: Paul Earle, 90; Arthur Cuscaden, 89; Ike Andrews, 87; H. N. Alford, 86; E. E. Bishop, 84; Benson Freeman Jr., 84; Ralph Jenkins, 84; C. W. Tway, 82; Dan Glenn Sr., 81; George Hatcher, 76; and Mrs. Donald McClain, 65.

Other singles scores included Charles Tway, 195; Jack Tway, 195; E. E. Bishop, 196; Ferd Kahler, 195; H. N. Alford, 195; Ike Andrews, 193; C. H. Giles, 195; Benson Freeman, 182; L. E. Grant, 173 (target shooting by the old-timer); John Kries, 196; George Hatcher, 188; Mrs. Donald McClain, 190; Dan Glenn Sr., 184.

OVER TODAY.

The annual fall festival trap shoot will close today with the preliminary handicap and the handicap championship, each over the 100-bird route. But it will be many a day on the

BAMA AND VOLS SET FOR BATTLE; TIDE IS FAVORED

Mighty Struggle Predicted as 2 Strong Teams Await Kickoff.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Birmingham—the Magic City—turned into a bedlam of excitement tonight as thousands of football's faithful milled about the streets and hotel lobbies bespeaking the praises of Alabama and Tennessee and awaiting the blast of the referee's whistle that will send the gridiron warriors of these two teams to battle on Legion field at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The cherished hopes of each eleven's followers for a Southeastern Conference title may depend considerably upon the outcome of this important fray.

Alabama has been rated a strong contender from the start of fall training and has been impressive in smashing 100 points through triumphs over Howard, Sewanee and Mississippi State. Only one touchdown has been scored against Coach Frank Thomas' team, the result of an intercepted pass.

VOLS STRONGER.

On the other hand, Tennessee was reckoned with very little in the preseason dope but has developed fast into a surprisingly strong squad. The Volunteers swept over Centre, 32 to 0, in their first game, whipped Carl Snavely's North Carolina team, which upset Georgia, by a 19-to-7 count, and although expected to have trouble with Mississippi picked the Ole Miss warriors, 27 to 0.

Major Bob Neyland, Tennessee's pilot who politely informed everyone that his team would be weaker than in several seasons, thinks the Vols have little chance of tripping the Tide. "We shouldn't lose by over five touchdowns," is the way the major puts it. Despite all the claims and predictions, Tennessee and Alabama will be represented at full strength when they line up for the opening kickoff. Although the Tide has been made a slight favorite, there is general agreement that the final score will be close. Alabama whipped Tennessee 12 to 6 last year in one of the most exciting games of the season.

Thomasville Upsets Tifton Devils, 9-0

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 19.—Playing inspired football, Thomasville High's Bulldogs upset the favored Tifton Blue Devils, 9-0, here today. Charlie Leitch, veteran back, returning to the lineup for the first time this year, led the Bulldogs to their fourth consecutive victory by drop-kicking a field goal from the 15-yard line in second quarter, then scoring a touchdown on spectacular run of 41 yards in fourth period.

Tifton's only threat was an aerial drive which penetrated into Thomasville territory late in second period. Many fumbles were costly to Tifton. The Bulldogs gained a total of seven first downs from scrimmage. Tifton got six first downs from scrimmage and added two more on passes.

PITT AND MINNESOTA TO BATTLE BEFORE 60,000 TODAY

By Eddie Brietz.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—For the second time in as many weeks, Pittsburgh will be the football capital of the United States tomorrow.

A crowd of 60,000—possibly the largest of the day—will see Coach Jock Sutherland hurl his Pitt Panthers against the big Gopher eleven of Minnesota in a game which will place the winner in the forefront of championship contenders.

Minnesota, looking even more formidable than Coach Bernie Bierman's crack 1933 machine, is the favorite to battle on Legion field at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The biggest galleries of the year are expected to witness a program bristling with contest of sectional and conference importance, and liberally sprinkled with intersectional duels.

New York has gone entirely collegiate with four games to choose from, three of them of top flight caliber.

St. Mary's has come all the way across the country to meet Fordham in one of the most colorful of intersectional rivalries. A capacity crowd of 57,000 is looked for at the Polo Grounds.

Columbia goes after the scalp of another eastern rival, Navy, and Michigan State, the giant killer of the middle west, plays Manhattan in Brooklyn. Indications are these scraps will be witnessed by crowds of 32,000 and 25,000, respectively.

Yale tackles Brown before 30,000 and if the weather is clear, 50,000 may see Harvard in action against Holy Cross.

Penn's sophomore backfield hopes to gallop to victory over Rutgers, Virginia and Washington and Lee come up from the south to test Dartmouth and Princeton, while Army takes its last warmup against Sewanee.

Michigan, after a disastrous start, may get going against Georgia Tech before 25,000 fans at Ann Arbor. Ohio State entertains Colgate in another intersectional bout. Notre Dame squares off with its old jinx, Carnegie Tech, with 30,000 customers expected in the stands at South Bend.

Purdue and Wisconsin will make their Big Ten starts at Lafayette. Chicago goes after another conference victory at the expense of Indiana.

The southern program is topped by the Alabama-Tennessee game at Birmingham. Tide hopes of both will be at stake before 25,000. North Carolina plays Kentucky and a homecoming crowd of 24,000 is predicted at Chapel Hill. Tulane and Georgia hook

HUNGARY TO DRAW ENTENTE PROTEST

Nations To Ask League To Take Action To Wipe Out Terrorist Nests.

BEIGRADE, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A meeting of representatives of the Little Entente today decided to register a joint protest with Hungary and with the League of Nations in connection with the alleged existence of terrorist camps on Hungarian territory.

Nicholas Titulescu, Rumanian foreign minister, forecast grave conflicts in Europe unless terrorism is scotched as the Little Entente statesmen studied ways and means of extending their alliance throughout the Balkans.

While young King Peter II put away his toys to become Yugoslavia's king, heartening Croats and Slovenes who hope for ultimate autonomy under the new liberal regime, the entente's foreign ministers considered adding Bulgaria to their political partnership.

A solid Balkan bloc to oppose any European aggression would thus be formed, it was pointed out, inasmuch as Bulgaria's entry probably would be accompanied by adherence to the Balkan peace treaty already signed by the entente and Greece.

The Rumanian statesmen's assertion that international measures must be taken immediately to halt terrorism, ostensibly referring to King Alexander's assassination at Marseille, came hard on the heels of unconfirmed rumors from Maribor, Yugoslavia, that Yugoslav troops were concentrating along the Hungarian border.

Edvard Benes, Czechoslovak foreign minister and the Little Entente's guiding spirit, spent the day conferring with Foreign Ministers Nicholas Titulescu, of Rumania, and Bogoljub Vekich, of Yugoslavia, as to ways of fortifying the entente against the continent's critical military and political situation.

Bulgaria's inclusion in the tri-power partnership Benes conceived soon after the great war was discussed thoroughly, it was reported, as were possible steps to be taken either by Yugoslavia singly or the entente collectively as the result of Alexander's assassination.

Living at White House Wearies Dall Children

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The president's grandchildren, Sistine and Bonnie Dall, want to move from the White House.

When they learned their mother, Mrs. Anna Dall, was seeking a small place where she and the children could live in a less official atmosphere, the youngsters cast a vigorous vote for a change.

So far Mrs. Dall hasn't found the house she wants and therefore may stay the winter in the executive mansion, where the family has lived during most of the Roosevelt administration.

Already the president's son, Elliott, and his wife and baby are established at a home in near-by Leesburg, Va.

TILT INVOLVING COLLIER STIRRED BY PEYOTE BEAN

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Controversy sprouted from a little bean—the peyote—has entwined an Indian religious group, John Collier, federal Indian commissioner, and Baptist missionaries to the redman.

The beans, native to Mexico, produce a trance-like state when chewed, or when used as incense. Their use is said to be included in the rites of the native American church, whose members for the most part are Indians.

G. Lee Phelps, Wetumka, Okla., superintendent of Baptist Indian missions, in an interview yesterday, criticized Collier for not halting the peyote rites.

The Indian commissioner, a former resident of Atlanta, now touring the state in the interests of the proposed Wheeler-Howard Indian bill, said he was not advocating the use of the peyote.

"I'm not really in favor of the peyote bean," he said, "but I see no reason why the government should interfere with the Indians' religious ceremonies."

Collier added that the peyote is not a habit-forming drug and has been used for centuries by the Indians in their worship. However, he said, its importation is illegal.

The Indians, in defense of the rites, have contended that by use of the peyote they are placed in closer communication with God.

TEN-FOOT LONG SEA BEAST TAKEN BY CAROLINANS

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A huge sea creature, 10 feet long and weighing from 1,500 to 2,000 pounds, was held captive in a hastily-constructed pool near here today, while inhabitants of the region awaited the arrival of a representative of the state museum, coming here to identify it.

Captain W. J. Tate, keeper of the Coinjock lighthouse, suggested that it might be a trumpet seal, but said he was uncertain since the habitat of that species is thousands of miles from here.

A party of fishermen caught the creature in a seine, and hauled it ashore with ropes attached to automobiles.

It is three feet across the back, 18 inches thick, and has a fan-shaped tail. The skin is dark brown and apparently very thin, with some traces of hair on it. The face is long, resembling that of a horse. It has no teeth.

PARRISH TURNED OVER TO FLORIDA COUNTY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Lonnie Parrish, escaped Georgia convict who was recaptured near here last night, was turned over to Orange county today to answer a warrant charging him with a holdup.

Sheriff Harry Hand, of Orlando, said he also wanted to question Parrish about a bank robbery at Apopka, Fla., three weeks ago.

Parrish had eluded officers of Georgia and Florida since escaping from a chain gang at Big Creek, Ga., on May 25, after serving only a few months of a 20-year sentence for robbing a bank at Patterson, Ga.

Officers said he told them he had been living near Jacksonville since his escape, and that he had existed on sandwiches and canned goods.

SEA TERMINAL BURNS IN PORTLAND, OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 19.—(AP)—After a spectacular fight, a fire was controlled today on the Northshore waterfront. Damage to the oceanic Terminal, to which the flames were confined, was estimated by officials at from $75,000 to $100,000.

A careless smoker was blamed.

Dunning Says Britain Seeks To Rule 'Nothing Except Her Own Heart'

"Britain wants to rule nothing save her own heart," asserted Dr. T. G. Dunning, distinguished Baptist leader of London, addressing a large audience of Christian leaders at the Druid Hills Baptist church Friday night.

Dr. Dunning is the chairman of the young people's commission of the Baptist World Alliance and one of the commissioners of the League of Nations. He is now in the United States to speak before the Southern Baptist Student conference in Memphis, October 25-28, and to make contact with friends in Atlanta, looking to the coming of the British delegation of young Baptists for the sixth world congress of Baptists in 1939.

"In our own land we are observing with distrust of the secular solution of life, revealing one is led to think, a deepening awakening to the hunger of the soul for God. It is reassuring to find here in your own great nation unmistakable evidences of the same quiet outreach for the things that satisfy and are abiding. Whilst the glamour of a certain kind of easy-going philosophy may thrust itself upon the foreground of life, it is certainly true that nowhere in the world does the materialistic conception of life maintain itself securely against the farther horizons of faith and hope and love.

"I think our age may be characterized as an era of intellectual ferment. Violent change is everywhere uprooting older viewpoints.

In such an age of swiftly moving currents, Baptists have nothing to fear. Our emphasis upon the freedom of the individual, the competency of the soul to deal direct with God, and the pre-eminence of Christ in all realms of life, these constitute a sufficiently ample philosophy of life for any man, anywhere, any age. In the period of the wars of Russia, our Baptist people were criticized because they were too socialistic; today they are not socialistic enough. This is but another way of saying that Baptists will never allow any government to tell them what they may believe.

"Baptists have never stood for a decadent social order nor for obsolete creeds. They believe in the application of the Sermon on the Mount to everyday life, mediated by regenerated individuals.

"Another symptom of our age may be termed as international frictions. Patriotism may be a good and great quality of life, but often it appears today as petty and ugly. We hear much about another war—another World War. I do not know who it is that could really want another World War. Certainly the young people today do not want to die, nor do they wish to pass on to another generation the unbearable burdens of post-war periods like unto that which we have witnessed for the past 15 years.

"But if we are to avert another war, we must work definitely along intelligent lines of good-will. Once people come to know each other, they will not seek to destroy one another. My little boy used to beg me to tell him stories about the World War, but when my good friend from Germany spent a fortnight in our home, he said, 'Daddy, if we go to war with Germany again, would you have to fight men like him?' I nodded my head, and he then said, 'I don't want to see you fight again.'

"The great enemies of international good-will are ignorance, fear, pride and hatred. I know of but one solvent for these deep-seated enemies of good-will among the peoples of earth, namely, the golden rule as enunciated by the Prince of Peace.

While in Atlanta Dr. Dunning is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Louis D. Newton on Oakdale road.

Four diplomas and 82 certificates were awarded Friday night at the closing session of the standard training school for Presbyterian Sunday school teachers held at the Central Presbyterian church.

One hundred and sixty persons attended the six-day training period.

Mrs. James K. Collings, Mrs. George Russey, Mrs. E. C. Stanley and Mrs. W. J. Dunn were given the diplomas by Stuart L. Oglesby, George O'Farrell was named president of the Presbyterian Superintendents' Association which sponsored the training school.

Other speakers named were Edward K. Jones, vice president; W. E. Hiers, secretary; E. S. Burgess, treasurer, and Paul Fleming, chairman of the finance committee.

William H. Hark, executive secretary of the Atlanta presbytery's work committee, was dean of the school.

HOLC BOND CONVERSION DEADLINE IS OCT. 27
Warning that the time limit for exchanging 4 per cent HOLC bonds into 3 per cent guaranteed bonds expires October 27 was issued Friday by Frank A. Holden, state manager of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

Holders of the 4 per cent bonds may convert them into 3 per cent bonds on which the principal and interest are guaranteed by the government. Manager Holden said the Government would close 11,232 loans to date, involving an expenditure in cash and bonds of $25,343,600. About $4,500,000 of the amount was spent in cash.

Local banks or building and loan associations will handle bond conversions for holders here and will remit them to the Federal Reserve bank, Holden said.

Nacoochee Guild Names Chairmen And Makes Plans

Committee chairmen were appointed and plans made for the membership drive of the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Guild at the initial fall meeting held at the Piedmont Driving Club Wednesday. Mrs. Jeff Hutchings, chairman, presided, and other officers assisting were Mrs. Murray Hubbard, honorary chairman; Mrs. A. M. Anderson, recording secretary; Mrs. W. F. Minnich, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Roy G. Merry, treasurer.

Mrs. Hutchings outlined plans for the piano artists ensemble which the guild will sponsor at a later date, and spoke of the gratifying response which the series of radio broadcasts had obtained in connection with the membership drive. These broadcasts are heard over a local station on Mondays and Wednesdays at 6:15 o'clock, and on Saturdays at 8:45 o'clock, and give a brief synopsis of the excellent work done by the school among the mountain people.

The guild was organized in 1930 by Mrs. Murray Hubbard with the objective of raising $1,000 a year to assist in providing for the maintenance of the school. This has been accomplished every year by the various committees sponsoring entertainments and through the membership fee, which is $1 a year.

The school was founded in 1927, and has among its benefactors the Carnegie Foundation and John D. Rockefeller Jr. The most distinctive work done by the school is the co-operative farming plan which has been adopted by the Near East Foundation for use in Bulgaria and Syria.

Those desiring to work with the guild during the coming year are invited to communicate with any of the following group leaders: Mesdames James J. Goodrum, Howard McCall, Robert Woodruff, William T. Perker, Samuel Shiley, Marietta; W. F. Minnich, J. J. Timlin, J. L. Rankin, Russell Hoyt, Smyrna; Arthur Anderson, H. G. Hastings, George R. ## Georgia Dahlia Society Wins First Prize at Loew's Grand Flower Show Exquisite dahlias, shading in tones from delicate salmon to deep crimson, displayed in a huge brown jar and entered by the Georgia Dahlia Society, captured first prize at the flower show held on Friday afternoon at the Loew's Grand theater. The flowers possess perfect blossoms and foliage and were culled from the gardens of the society's members. Jane Cowie, Jersey Beauties and Thomas Edison flaunted their beauty and were adjudged the winning entry. Edward J. Melniker, popular manager of the theater, presented a handsome silver cup to Miss Barbara Prater for the dahlia society with David Long as president.

Wild flowers combined with brilliant autumn leaves entered by the Iris Garden Club received the red ribbon. Mrs. Bolling Sannett is the president of the club and the display was arranged by Mrs. Allen Arley, chairman of the flower arrangements. Combining dried grass, crimson sumac, elderberry and sweet gum leaves the display was arranged in a tall copper jar.

Mrs. Dwight Morrow Speaks Over Radio Monday, October 22

October 22 is "college day" for graduates of the following colleges: Barnard, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley. On that day the alumnae clubs of the seven colleges will meet jointly in every city and town of the country to listen in when Mrs. Dwight Morrow, nationally famous Smith alumna and the mother of the equally renowned Anne Lindbergh, also a Smith alumna, discusses "The College Graduate and the New Leisure." The broadcast is over a national hookup from 5 to 5:15 (E. S. T.) and 4 to 4:15 Atlantic time. Progressively at that time across the country, from San Francisco to Maine, parties will be given in honor of her appearance. Many groups on the Pacific coast will start with luncheon meetings—afternoon receptions will mark "college day" for the cities and regions on mountain and central time, while the clubs assembled from Detroit east to the Atlantic seaboard will give teas and informal buffet suppers. Graduates of the colleges named are inviting all college graduates in their communities to meet with them on Monday, October 22, with the result that their "sevenfold alumnae meeting and broadcast" will mark the first time that college women have met nationally, via the radio.

Surgical Congress Delegates Honored

Dr. and Mrs. George Fuller were hosts on Thursday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock at their home on Fairview road to delegates to the Southeastern Surgical Congress and officers of the Fifth District Medical Society, of which Dr. Fuller is newly elected president. Dr. Isidore Cohn, of New Orleans, La., was honor guest at the reception.

Assisting the hosts in entertaining were Mesdames T. C. Davidson, L. G. Baggett, Joseph Yampolsky, B. L. Shackleford and Edgar Shanks. Red roses and white chrysanthemums were arranged to adorn the living room, while pink roses and blue ageratum were featured in the decoration of the other rooms.

Woltz-Green Rites Are Solemnized In Gastonia, N. C.

GASTONIA, N. C., Oct. 19.—Miss Mary Katharine Woltz became the bride of Holcombe T. Green of Atlanta, Ga., at a brilliant ceremony taking place at Main Street Methodist church Tuesday evening.

Rev. L. B. Hayes, presiding elder of the Waynesville district and a cousin of the bride, assisted by the Rev. John W. Moore, pastor of Main Street church, read the marriage service.

Festoons of English ivy, and masses of palms and ferns, interspersed with flowers of white dahlias, formed the church decorations. The altar rail was outlined with lighted candles.

A program of nuptial music was given by Miss Louise McArthur, organist, and Miss Marie Green, of Atlanta, sister of the bridegroom, vocalist.

Serving as ushers and groomsmen were Pulaski Smith, Henry Green, Jiroud Jones and R. D. Cole III, of Atlanta; John Woltz and William K. Woltz, brothers of the bride; Ruth Woltz attended her sister as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Ethel Green, of Atlanta, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Edna Love, of Burlington. The matron of honor was Mrs. Donald B. Johnston, of Washington, D. C.

The attendants wore Augustan-style models fashioned of velvet in the sunset shades. The bridesmaids were in coral, the matron of honor wore copper and the maid of honor flamingo. They carried tall, slender roses in arm bouquets.

Acting as flower girls were the bride's small nieces, Mary Elizabeth and Katharine Currie, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Currie, of Canton, Ga. They wore quaint princess frocks with wide white ribbons sashed at the waist and falling to the floor to form trains.

Alfred Edgar Woltz gave his daughter in marriage, while the bridegroom was attended by his brother, Leon Green, of Atlanta. The lovely young bride wore a Paquin model of ivory satin and rose point lace. Her veil of tulle was bordered its entire length with rose point lace and fell from a cap of lace. A short veil, also caught to the lace, fell over her face. She carried a bride's miff of ivory satin covered with white orchids and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Woltz entertained at a formal reception at their home on South York street, for the bridal party, members of the two families and guests from out of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Green left for a western bridal trip. After November 1 Mr. and Mrs. Green will be at home at 826 Peachtree street, Atlanta.

Junior Horse Show Will Attract Society Today to Biltmore Ring

Miss Betty Yopp, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Gerald P. O'Keefe, is pictured with her mount, Bobby Jones, which she will ride in the junior horse show this afternoon to be presented at the Biltmore ring on Roxboro road.

Co-operation of the military contingent with the Young Matrons Circle for Tallulah Falls school in the latter's sponsorship of the fourth annual junior horse show to be held Saturday afternoon, through the announcement made by General George Van Horn Moseley, commander of the fourth corps area, is of wide interest and a complimentary gesture to this active organization of young matrons. A cash gift from General Moseley to the circle was announced by Mrs. H. W. Beers, president, at the meeting held Wednesday at Brookhaven Country Club, to be given to the horse show fund.

The show is one of the most interesting sporting events listed on the fall calendar and will be limited to riders under 19 years of age. There will be 14 classes, beginning at 1 o'clock at the Biltmore Riding Academy on Roxboro road under the direction of Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Wheeler. Mrs. Marion Penland Candler is general chairman for the show and is being assisted by Mesdames Eugene Harrington, Charles Le Roux, Clarence Haverly and Westerfelt Terhune.

Mrs. L. B. Runn, of Ashley Hall, Charleston, S. C., will act as judge in all classes, one of the most interesting of which will be the owners' class, in which owners will exhibit their own mounts. The riders will wear regulation attire as appointments will count 25 per cent.

Spectators as well as riders may purchase their lunches at the show as sandwiches and cold drinks will be sold by the circle. Mrs. John M. Ogden is in charge of the lunches to be served the Boy Scouts who will assist. Other chairmen for the show are Mesdames Lindsay Hopkins Jr. and Martin Kilpatrick, tickets: Herbert Porter and Ben Parker, programs: Jack Pappenheimer, ring: Spotswood Grant, confections: Irving Schewepe, sandwiches: Frank Quentin, prizes: Carter Smith, Coca-Cola; Herbert Oliver, decorations: Donald McClain and Frank Quentin, saddle: Arthur Bird, radio: Franklin Chalmers, chairs: Mary Nelson Ream, parking: J. H. Hillsman and Allen Burdett, promotion of interest, and J. Harry Rogers and Miss Yolande Gwin, publicity.

Handsome silver goblets have been obtained as trophies for the affair, the donors including John K. Outley, Arthur Bird, DeWitt King, J. M. Ogden, Hunt Chisley, Dr. J. Lee Hopden, Mrs. Clarence Haverly, Mrs. Donald McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Smith, Herbert Oliver Jr., Myron E. Freeman Company and Misses Anna Pappenheimer, Suzanne Ferst, Jesse Nunnally, Mary Trammell Scott, Jean Oliver and Jeanette Sibley.

Household Arts BY ALICE BROOKS

Put crocheted edgings on your linens and have a decoration that will outlast the piece itself. This varied collection lends itself to a great number of things. Do them in a twine and you can have a smart shelving. Use a fine cotton and you can have an edging dainty enough for a handkerchief. Collars, cuffs and jabots can be made of the one edging. You can go ahead and just enjoy crocheting the edgings now, then when you're all done, decide on what you'll use them. They range in width from 3-4 to 4 inches and can, of course, be varied by using a thread of a different weight.

In pattern 5159 you will find detailed instructions for the edgings; illustrations of these and of all stitches needed; suggestions for their use, and material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents to Household Arts Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Culbertson on Contract

Passive Defense.

There are many active measures a defensive player may take to bring about the declarer's downfall. Honors may be underlaid, entries may be knocked out, aces may be held up, and so on. Of these certain things, however, the best line of defense that can be adopted is a passive one. In other words, the player should merely avoid the mistakes which the declarer is likely to make, and let him make them as long as possible and thus make the declarer do all the guessing. As a result of this defensive policy, which West followed in spite of the fact that it involved giving the declarer a ruff and discard, the declarer on today's hand went down one trick.

South dealer. Neither side vulnerable.

South West North East
Pass Pass Pass Pass

West opened his fourth best heart, and the dummy naturally won the trick. Declarer proceeded to draw three rounds of trumps, and then ran his heart suit, discarding one of his two diamonds on dummy's fourth heart. It was unfortunate for the South player's angle that the diamond on the heart could do him no good whether a diamond or a club was chosen. The fourth heart was cashed merely to strip both hands of that suit, and the diamond was finally selected as a discard so that both hands would be stripped of that suit also after one round. After the fourth heart was cashed a jack club was led from dummy. East ducked, and declarer played the jack from his own hand. West winning the trick with the queen.

The West player had followed the play very carefully and knew that the declarer's original distribution could only have been 4-4-3-2, with four cards in the club suit. With more than two diamonds in the hand the declarer would most certainly have attempted to ruff them in dummy before playing all three rounds of trumps. With this as a basis, West realized the contract lay in the ability of his side to take two more club tricks. From the bidding he knew the declarer was marked with the club king. If not the ace, and therefore that to lead the four would only save the declarer a guess. West finally laid down the ace of diamonds and followed with the queen, not caring about the ruff and discard he was giving to South, as with three clubs still in his hand South could not fulfill his contract by discarding only one.

The diamond lead was naturally trumped with dummy's last trump and a club discarded. A club was now led from dummy for the third hand. East was equally aware of the situation and played the ten-spot. South was of course completely on the spot. He knew that if East held the club king, he could make the hand by going up with his king, but that if the ace was in the West hand and if it was now blank, he could make the contract only by not going up with the king. Of course, there was a very good chance of the ace being blank if the West player held it, as the defense between them had held only five cards in the suit originally. After a long huddle the declarer decided, basing his decision on the fact that West had failed to continue clubs, that the club was with him. Of course, East's 10 held the trick and the ace was now cashed for the setting trick. It is true that declarer could have and perhaps should have guessed the situation correctly, but the defense made it as difficult as they possibly could.

REVIEWING THE SHOWS

"Mrs. Wiggs" Praised

By Reviewer at Fox

In the presentation of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which opened Friday night at the Fox, the movie folks have passed another milestone. The slow climb to final achievement has been a long and arduous one, but the film is a masterpiece of the celluloid road. Better than "Little Women," and if Alice Lloyd had played the role of the mother, it would have been a masterpiece of the celluloid road. It is like running into a family of old friends in a strange land.

Pauline Lord and W. C. Fields are the outstanding ones in a cast that is well-nigh perfect. As Mrs. Wiggs, Pauline Lord plays her part with a performance as might be expected from a stage-trained actress of marked ability, and Fields as the bombastic Mr. Higgins, who plays havoc with Zazu's heart just couldn't be improved upon.

But while we're wishing out the credit, let's not pass by Coby. Here's a dunder man who has cost the producers many weary days of agonizing about for equine talent. Verily, his like has never been seen elsewhere. The juveniles, Australia, Asia, Europe, and the world over, are all in the picture. Don't know just who the smallest of the lot is, but here's hoping they don't exploit her too soon. She's got the stuff to make a star. Evelyn Venable shows great promise in the simple part of Miss Lucy and Kent Taylor does entire justice to Mr. Bob. Of course, you've read "Mrs. Wiggs," and perhaps you've seen the stage play, so you know the story of the poverty-stricken widow with the home-philosophy, but Mrs. Wiggs and her everlasting battles are not done or tiring. There's just enough of it to get her across in her true light. At times, particularly when her everlasting battles are not done or tiring, there's just enough of it to get her across in her true light. At times, particularly when her everlasting battles are not done or tiring, there's just enough of it to get her across in her true light.

The picture cuts from one scene to the next between interest and new suspense is constantly introduced. Belamy is an excellent detective, and Miss Grey makes a charming foe. A Mickey Mouse cartoon, newswreel containing picture of the actual assassination of King Alexander and a two-reel opera in which the feature—which will be held until Tuesday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(F)—Cotton prices again moved irregularly within a narrow range today. A slightly higher opening was followed by declines under a little southern selling and liquidation. December contracts after selling up to 12.38 early, slid off to 12.29 in the late trading and closed at that figure, with the general market ending barely Active months sold 5 to 7 points, net higher right after the call, with May advancing to 12.53, but buyers were supplied by southern selling and realizing or liquidation on the upturn. There were reports of a less active demand for cotton goods after the buying of the past two days. May contracts sold off to 12.44 with active months showing reactions of about 8 to 10 points.

quotations were within a point or two of the lows.

Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were buyers here at the start, presumably on the differences.

Exports today 24,800 making 1,096,529 so far this season. Port receipts 47,034. United States port stocks 3,010,954.

A cable from Liverpool attributed steadiness there to favorable reports from Alexandria, but said that buying for Alexandria account had been supplied on the advance by continental and local realizing. Another cable said reports reaching Liverpool from Alexandria indicated that the average quality of sakel receipts was turning out inferior to last year and that large sales of Egyptian uppers to Japan have been held by.

Reports from Worth street said that buyers appeared to have satisfied their more immediate requirements for cotton cloths, but that prices were firmly held by the mills.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—(P)

The cotton market was comparatively quiet today and prices fluctuated narrowly and erratically, developing no particular trend. Good cables and a steady stock market were responsible for a moderate gain of 5 to 7 points at the start. Although the market passed off some in early trading on hedge selling, losing 5 to 8 points from the early highs, it recovered a part of the loss around noon only to rose off again with wheat in the afternoon, making lows 2 points below the previous close. After rallying 1 point at the end the market closed steadily at net decline for the day of 1 point.

The opening was firmer in sympathy with Liverpool cables which came in much better than due. Private cables stated that Alexandria brought in the Liverpool market, contracts being supplied by continental
